

THE GLOBALIST ENDGAME & 'ATROCITY PROPAGANDA'

What Do a Girl Named Greta, Faux-Environmentalism, & the New Age Movement Have in Common?

Abstract

An examination of the background to the manmade climate-change movement and, in particular, the forces which have manufactured what I call 'The Greta Project' — the phenomenon surrounding the Swedish schoolgirl, Greta Thunberg, who has shot to world stardom overnight. The overall aim of this essay is to demonstrate that 'The Greta Project' cannot be seen as an isolated spontaneous element but is part of an orchestrated psychological operation (psyop), working on many levels, to create a 'one-world' government under totalitarian control through the means of false environmentalism and 'Atrocity Propaganda' steered by the power-elite, joining forces with the pseudo-spirituality of the New Age Movement.

PROLOGUE: Ugly Truths are Preferable to Beautiful Lies

Writing an article such as this is not how I prefer to be spending my time. I would far rather be creating poetry or making music; and I certainly do not relish courting controversy, as this piece inevitably will, because of the prevailing zeitgeist today, which means that the mass of people easily take offence and can be triggered by anything which challenges their conditioning or which threatens to reveal a difficult truth. I can remember watching a tremendous movie-metaphor concerning the amount of human resistance there is to see through falsehood in “They Live” — an early John Carpenter movie, in which the aliens look respectably human until a special pair of sunglasses is worn and then their real faces become visible. In one scene, the hero tries to get his friend to put the glasses on, but the other guy just wants a quiet life with no trouble, so he refuses vehemently. It then turns into a struggle which, at more than five minutes in length, must be the longest one-on-one fight scene in any film ever (although, due to the tenacity of the protagonist, he did win in the end, which is very unusual!). That is a very apt metaphor and visual depiction of how exceedingly difficult it often is to enable someone to gain the necessary perception to see beyond all the deception and fakery of this world in order to appreciate the mindblowing understanding of how evil really operates. Though, like the protagonist in the film, we should never give up trying. Seeing evil for what it really is, and where it comes from, will then, hopefully, direct us towards the right pathway of goodness, light and truth. [If you are interested, you can watch that particular movie scene, and the aftermath revealing what happens when you put the glasses on, by clicking here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4-MVMbm6c0k>].

In order to see through the thin veneer of ‘civilisation’ in this world, it really helps to be willing to investigate with an open mind which is not imprisoned in a self-made cell of wilful ignorance. Let me give an example of that:

Between 1997 and 2010, I was running a now defunct ‘word-of-mouth’ email list of around 1600 people across the world (which included a couple of politicians, three high-ranking US officers in the military who were disillusioned with what their government was doing and also, I suspect, at least a couple of ‘spooks’! 😊). To them, I sent out my investigative articles and other thoughts on a twice or thrice weekly basis. I received much correspondence from perplexed, questioning and even, amusingly, some quite insulting people. The creativeness of pathological insulters on the internet really knows no bounds! However, sometimes fruitful communications do happen. One day, in 2005, I received an email from a man of integrity on the list who had been a police officer in Cleveland, Ohio, and whom I had known personally some years earlier. He said he was horrified that I could question his government’s integrity (which included an article I had written in early 2003 showing the true context of the genocidal US invasion of Afghanistan and Iraq). He said he was going to use all his detective powers as a cop to investigate and prove me wrong. I replied, saying that I looked forward to that (for it is important to be proven wrong if one is wrong). A few months later I received an email from him which said this:

“Alan – I confess I am a broken man. I have investigated and I have had the rug pulled out from underneath everything which I held dear. I realise now that what you have been writing is 100% true. I have just sat for nearly two hours in a sort of nauseated stupor. My opinion is that the country I loved is virtually dead and probably beyond hope of survival — we have waited too long; the conspirators have been too clever. So how do you manage to keep a spark of hope?”

It is extremely easy to love people like this — that is, those who are willing not only to investigate but also to embrace truth, no matter how uncomfortable that may be. Unfortunately, ‘mostpeople’ (to quote ee cummings’ portmanteau word for the mass of unthinking conformists in the world) prefer beautiful lies to ugly truths. His final question, “So how do you manage to keep a spark of hope?”, is extremely important, for without an adequate answer to it there is only nihilism and chaos. I will return to this in the epilogue at the end of this little essay. For even in the midst of the darkness which is progressively engulfing this globe, there is hope. But more on that later.

There are certain human elements in this world which put fire in my soul, such as acts of love, extreme courage, quiet heroism, selflessness, and altruism. About these, I really thrill to wax lyrical with poetry, music and encouraging prose. But there are other human elements which put the rumble of thunder in my bones! These particular elements are those such as exploitation, manipulation, oppression, violence, and deception. When I encounter those, I am compelled to leave no stone unturned, and take my investigative brush to sweep away the dirt I find beneath. This present article is a result of this ‘thunder in my bones’. For without this thunder, I lack the motivation to spend time laying out all the deceptive and dirty stuff I find in the world at present. I much prefer the fire in the soul (and the poetry and the music, although truth-telling is always my passion and my goal).

The central catalyst for this little essay has been the emergence of what I call ‘The Greta Project’. I refer, of course, to the ‘manufacturing’ of the Greta Thunberg phenomenon, or rather the Swedish schoolgirl who we now find being globally promoted as the poster child of manmade climate-change campaigning and who has influenced many youngsters to follow her and to join strikes from their schools. As soon as I became aware of her, I immediately sensed that this was not some spontaneous emergence of a ‘wunderkind’ but rather an orchestrated exercise. One gets a “nose” for these things, as I will elaborate in a later section. For no one achieves this kind of favourable coverage from the corporate media and receives sponsorship from big business and corrupt world leaders without being a “patsy” for the power-elite or, to use a more politicized phrase, a ‘useful idiot’. And when I examined her purple-prose scripts about ‘the house burning’, about her wanting us all to be very afraid, and about imminent mass extinction, the first thing that sprung to mind was that she is the perfect candidate as an easy and unwitting dupe for the purposes of ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ — this being a major branch of the kind of psychological operations (psyops) and mind-control which are carried out by intelligence networks and shadow government ‘black operations’ (black ops) activities perpetrated in order to sway public opinion dramatically. See [https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Atrocity\_propaganda]. You may, at this point, think that this all sounds crazy. However, when you fully understand how this world really operates, then nothing will take you by surprise anymore.

So this is where I am going to start — by placing ‘The Greta Project’ firmly in the context of ‘psyops’, ‘mind-control’ and ‘Atrocity Propaganda’, for this is what I believe that she is: An easily-fooled, unwitting, mind-controlled, atrocity-propagandist kid. Please also understand that this is not “hating on Greta” (as I have seen it said), as I will explain in more detail in a section below. I hate no one. Ever. Hate is a dead-end messed-up alleyway. However, it has been a very clever move to put a young girl in this position and then shame anyone who criticizes any aspect of her personality as ‘bullying’ or ‘ageism’. So I do hope that you will realize my position is very far from anything like that, which is why I have written this little essay. However, I am a great believer in contextualization, without which everything will appear as random. So, first, let us examine the general background to 'Atrocity Propaganda', in relation to psychological operations and mind-control, so that we may understand just where 'The Greta Project' fits into all of this.

I. THE BACKGROUND TO PSYOPS, MIND-CONTROL & 'ATROCITY PROPAGANDA'

One can only begin to understand 'The Greta Project' when one sees it as part of the overall context in which everything that is shaping the direction of this world is being done to establish the coming 'one-world' government (with a great deal of Alice Bailey UN-style New Age thinking thrown in for good measure), all of which will claim to be for the good of humanity, but which will ultimately be the vehicle for a global hegemony under a coming so-called 'World Teacher' (to quote the occultist, Alice Bailey) whose darkness will make George Orwell's 'Big Brother' seem like a boy scout. However, although many may think that a global government under a "Great Leader" sounds like a good thing, when one understands what really lies behind all of this, one will arrive at a very different view altogether (as I will elaborate throughout this essay).

At this point, it would not surprise me if you think all this sounds a little nuts. Hearing completely new stuff very often does. But please do not give up yet! We are living in an era of deception which is so fiendishly clever (the "fiend" part being an extremely apt word) that even people who might consider themselves to be sophisticated and insightful could easily be fooled — especially as the highly duplicitous next few years ahead roll by.

Later in this essay, we will come to appreciate more the darkness which disguises itself in the 'one-world' government concept. So I hope that I do not need to start totally at the beginning of everything here. I cannot keep repeating all that I have written in articles before this, or every article will become a book! So I will briefly remind readers that the national government which 'mostpeople' believe in so fervently is not the autonomous executive government which most folk generally perceive it to be; but it is a front and effectively functions as merely a 'local department' of the power-elite in the global scene. This provides the illusion for people that democracy truly exists and that everyone has a hand in deciding who runs any particular country. Truly, there is no more laughable idea than that! Whatever your 'elected' government wishes to do, if it is not in line with the collective aims of the power-elite which really runs this whole global system, it will be quashed. This is why there can be no such thing as genuine 'democracy' in the world today. There never has been, and there never can be. Voting is not democracy but is engineered consent for the real powers to keep doing what they do regardless of anyone's votes or wishes. Logically, and in actual fact, the vast bulk of our western nations' wealth belongs to privately owned banks, financiers, and corporations to whom most western nations (if not all) are kept in great financial debt! This has been the situation for the past few hundred years at least. Moreover, the whole system is designed to keep it that way! To think of a nation having the power of self determination based on the democratic will of the people of that nation would be rather like assuming that a particular department within a large corporation has the autonomy to act independently of its board of directors! The political show you see being played out in your media and on your TV is little more than an entertainment exercise to keep the masses mesmerized by disinformation, untruths, and outright red herrings. (You can read more about all this in my recent article, "Politricks & the Spiritual Warrior: The Real Meaning of 'Woke' Today").

The intelligence services used by the power elite, which enforces its will on the masses, are masters at playing with people's minds and gaslighting them with ease. They have been doing this for decades. First, openly between the 1950s and 1970s (after which it went underground) by using, for example, the inmates of hospitals to practice their mind-control experiments. It was called Project MKUltra — an extension of the US Military intelligence having brought into the USA numerous ghoulish Nazi scientists and psychiatrists (including mind-control practitioners) from Germany at the end of World War II in a then covert scheme codenamed ‘Operation Paperclip’. See this link for details: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Operation\_Paperclip ]. In case you are itching to call me a ‘conspiracy theorist’, this is all frankly admitted even on the CIA’s very own website! [See <https://www.cia.gov/library/center-for-the-study-of-intelligence/csi-publications/csi-studies/studies/vol-58-no-3/operation-paperclip-the-secret-intelligence-program-to-bring-nazi-scientists-to-america.html>]].

A UK equivalent of the CIA’s mind-control operations has been the New Age ‘Findhorn Foundation’, which was created by two former British Intelligence operatives, Dorothy Maclean and Sheena Govan. This New Age organisation (which has all the signs of a psyop) has been immensely influential alongside the CIA’s mind-control experiments, stretching right into major corporations with its New Age teachings and even into the heart of the United Nations. (You can research all this for yourself). So intelligence services know very well how to manipulate the minds of mentally-challenged and personality-disordered people like Greta in order to create global movements which will, in turn, further the cause of the power-elite and the forces of darkness.

One of the Basic Purposes of Many Psyops is Extreme Polarization

One of the basic primary aims of many psychological operations (psyops) carried out by intelligence services on behalf of the power-elite is to cause massive division in the target population. This is used especially to polarize people, rabidly for and fanatically against, around what is usually a rather pointless central axis. This is in order that each ‘side’ engages mainly in ad hominem arguments ad infinitum and this has been a key ‘divide and rule’ strategy, historically, of many a leader and powermonger. The Brexit psyop is a fine example of this, having had the effect of bitterly dividing the UK into ‘Brexiters’ or ‘Remainers’ with great success. I see so many at each other’s throats over this subject, and yet they are just puppets who only imagine that their votes actually count for something. They do not, so please wake up from that delusive reverie!

I will not be going further into this Brexit debacle here as I have already done so in considerable detail elsewhere. Suffice it to say that the European Union itself has its foundations firmly in the background activities of intelligence agencies (especially the CIA) and moneyed elites of this world, which even a modicum of research will reveal. Brexit is fittingly described in this line from an Eagles lyric: “You can check out any time you like, but you can never leave”. And this is certainly the intention at present, unless anything radically changes.

With all this in mind, it becomes even more apparent that ‘The Greta Project’ is almost certainly a psyop. I will write below about ‘the sixth-sense of seethroughness’, which happens when one immediately senses something amiss at first glance. Certainly, the visual appearance, presentation and verbiage of Greta Thunberg really just reek of a psyop. The two polarizations in this particular project are:

1) Those who are unquestioningly diehard supporters of the girl and who will rabidly oppose anyone who professes not to be. They behave like people who are involved in a cult and will defend the project at all costs, even if someone proves to them that it is all a manipulated chimera. They are Greta-lovers, and that’s the end of it. Many Swedes fall into this category and see Greta as a representative of what they believe is their wonderful country around the world and take it as a personal smear if they come across any critique of Greta. In this way, Greta-lovers (even those who would normally regard themselves as in opposition to the power-elite) unwittingly fall in line to become ‘working assets’ of that power-elite. Greta-lovers will typically use hashtags on social media such as #yougogreta and #howdareyou and if they regard you as a ‘Greta-shamer’ they will even publish your address and telephone number on social media so that people will harass you or worse. (I have screen-captured a number of instances of this, but I will not insert them in this article as they show personal details).

2) The other polarized group consists of those who are politically motivated to be opposed to Greta Thunberg (e.g. they are diehard Trump supporters, proud ‘rightists’ or ultra-conservatives) but who unfortunately act only by means of an ad hominem attack. Thus, all they really do is ridicule the girl for her mental conditions, her weird expressions, her immaturity, her appearance, or merely castigate her as a ‘Libtard’ (unkind portmanteau word of ‘liberal’ and ‘retard’), by creating memes and YouTube distortions for that purpose. Both of these polarized sides deal mainly in slogans and there is little of substance there. They mostly deal in emotionalism and triggered responses. Thus, both groups become useful assets of the power-elite. This is how psyops very often work. They create division and thereby, ultimately, they utilize both sides.

I cannot emphasise enough the importance of this concept of using both sides in terms of intelligence strategy. Controlling both sides is how intelligence agencies love to operate. For instance, when the power-elite is waging a war, they will control the waging of the war itself, but also control any opposition to it by infiltrating groups with undercover agents. This was the modus operandi of British intelligence agencies in the so-called ‘Troubles’ in Ireland. They not only controlled the actions of the British army, but they also controlled the opposing terrorist organisation, the IRA, so as to cause maximum mayhem. This is not some kind of conspiracy theory setup or ‘fake news’ but has been well-documented even in the mainstream media, where it has been shown that “half of all top IRA men worked for security services”, including aiding and assisting in terrorist activities — essentially generating ‘false-flag’ operations. [See <https://www.belfasttelegraph.co.uk/news/northern-ireland/half-of-all-top-ira-men-worked-for-security-services-28694353.html> ].

So the controlling of both sides is often how it is done in the intelligence services’ psychological operations; just as it has been with ‘The Greta Project’. What is also important to understand is that the power-elite themselves do not have to be actively involved in any of their manipulations. They have a huge number of lackeys and apparatchiks who will do the necessary without them having to lift a finger. The system is already in place (as I elaborated in ‘Politricks & the Spiritual Warrior’). One would have to be very naïve indeed to imagine that provocateurs are not hard at work in chatrooms and forums, for they do that with other controversies which they have created.

However, the way to handle this is to avoid being involved with either of those two polarizations (which are both merely the result of divisive machinations), but to lay out with logic and undeniable precision what is really happening. Logic and non-emotionalism are the friends of truth; and truth is what is at stake here. The role of the honest investigator is not to get involved with polarizations but to be an educator with authority and integrity. That should be the foremost function of anyone who wishes to counteract deception.

The Use of Cute Pigtailed Girls as Icons of State Propaganda

Psychological operations — known in military intelligence circles as ‘psyops’ or ‘psywar’ — can involve major stunning events that have national or international repercussions (for example, the assassinations of John F. Kennedy and Lady Diana Spencer, or the enactment of 9/11). Even heart-string-pulling characters can be deliberately used to influence the public’s sympathies and manipulate their views. As soon as I saw Greta’s pigtailed little face, I thought of how the use of cute kids in pigtails to sway populations through tendentious claims has been so fruitful in history — which is really a clever psyop to front evil with innocence. For example, there was the League of German Girls (BDM, Bund Deutscher Mädel) incorporated fully by Adolf Hitler in 1932 (see images above, left), which was the female wing of the Nazi Youth Movement. There are many propaganda images from those days of determined pigtailed girls accompanied by Nazi slogans. Pigtails are a symbol of virgin-like innocence and virtue, making a teenager look like a small child or little doll — the essence of maidenhood — thus appearing as representative of goodness and purity and therefore making the propaganda message seem more believable. Then there was Chairman Mao Zedong’s communist Red Guards, formed in China in 1966, the backbone of his so-called ‘cultural revolution’; and this was also spearheaded by determined little girls in pigtails (see image, right). Thus, there is a history of the use of such psyops by state interests involving the public presentation of cute, determined-looking pigtailed young girls in order to carry out a mass gaslighting and mind-control of national populations. This is made all the more easy by the fact that most young people have very little maturity of discernment and are often innocently ignorant, and are also often full-time practitioners of extreme cognitive dissonance, holding misplaced ideals which makes them easy prey for emotional manipulation (as I will come to show in a section below about ‘The New Midwich Cuckoos’.)

So, let us now go on to further develop our understanding of how psyop-led ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ works, with yet another example of a cute little girl with a pigtail from Kuwait in 1990 — this time being used by governments to create the impetus to wage war against another nation and “bomb it back to the Stone Age”.

I do not know how many of you are old enough to remember the First Gulf War in the 1990s, in which some dramatic testimony by a pigtailed fifteen year-old Kuwaiti girl (see left, below) was used during a US Congressional hearing on 10th October 1990 to justify the USA illegally waging war in Iraq. Here, the young ‘witness’ said that Kuwaiti babies had been “ripped from incubators” by Iraqi forces and left to die. This was a tale which really got the gullible warmongering American population whipped into a frenzy, cheering the bombers on (and, incidentally, initially supported by that phony ‘human rights organisation’, Amnesty International). It was known as the ‘Nayirah Testimony’. Two years later, it was revealed that the girl who testified about the ‘atrocities’ (and who was only presented to the Congressional hearing as ‘Nayirah’, deliberately omitting her last name) was actually the daughter of the Kuwaiti ambassador to the USA! After the war, the story was exposed as a total fabrication created by the United States PR company, Hill & Knowlton, on behalf of the Kuwaiti government as propaganda. This is how it all works. It is actually referred to as ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ and it is still very commonly used. First of all, the perpetrators wheel out the ‘Big Lie’ horror-stories beforehand in order to soften up the public (for whatever other programme they have in mind) and then they wage the war (or whatever other nefarious activity they wish to engage in). Afterwards, when all the dust has settled, they reveal (or it is revealed in the lackey media) that the pretext for the war was completely false. Of course, nobody cares by then. No one is ever hauled over the coals or prosecuted for the warcrimes. The job has been done. This is precisely how warmongering propaganda has always operated historically. See the first paragraph in the section ‘World War 1’ in [https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Edward\_Bernays regarding ‘psychological warfare’. In fact, that entire article is of extreme interest to all those who want to understand what is really going on in this world].

The Use of ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ to Further the Aims of the Power-Elite

I will go even more deeply into another example of blatant ‘Atrocity Propaganda’, as it has enormous implications for the ethical life of nations and has never been rectified. Neither have the criminal perpetrators of the war which ensued been indicted. On March 18th, 2003, immediately before the second Gulf War, an article brazenly appeared in ‘The Times’ UK newspaper with the headline “See Men Shredded, then Say you don’t Back War”. It was written by Ann Clwyd, a Member of Parliament in the socialist Labour Party in the UK and, at that time, one of former Prime Minister Tony Blair’s Special Envoys on Human Rights. The article claimed that Saddam Hussein routinely put dissidents into an industrial shredding machine, along with committing other similar atrocities. This story really did the rounds, coming as it did in perfect propaganda time to spread the word as to why war should be waged against Iraq and that its leader, Saddam Hussein, needed to be toppled. The same article was published at the same time on the U.S. State Department International Information Programs website. At the time, many people avidly and triumphantly sent me details of this shredder story, asking me — as I had written many articles exposing the disingenuous and mendacious nature of the proposed invasion of Iraq — how I could possibly be opposed to the invasion after reading it. All I could do was lament the gullibility of so many, as I still do today.

The many reports appearing years later (and too late) on the injustice of the invasion of Iraq have focused primarily on the lies about weapons of mass destruction (WMDs). (Remember that every single one of the mainstream media outlets, including the allegedly ‘liberal’ Guardian newspaper, originally plugged the ‘WMDs in Iraq’ line fed to them by their controllers — similar to how they are doing now with ‘The Greta Project’. All of this with unquestioning acceptance and advocacy — instead of going out of their way to investigate the truth, which is what journalism should really be about. But what we have never heard much about is the way that psychological operations played a key role in mesmerizing the world into submission to the USA’s (and its puppet, the UK’s) hegemonial intentions. In other words, the media — after they learned that they had been duped by fake ‘intelligence’ into telling the world lies about WMDs — failed to investigate properly how that could have happened. They suddenly started changing the story without confessing culpability or sincerely investigating the cause.

Although atrocities plainly did happen under Saddam Hussein in Iraq (as they do in most countries; even in many countries supported morally and financially by the USA), it is clear that this story of Saddam’s industrial shredder was apocryphal, and designed purely as propaganda, having no basis in fact whatsoever. It was a kind of Histoire du Grand Guignol created to “shock and awe” the masses into following the government line on a warring invasion. A textbook method of propaganda is to smear the enemy with ‘beyond-belief’ crimes of this nature (e.g. the old chestnut, “They eat babies”). But what the U.S. State Department reprint of Ann Clwyd’s article failed to reveal is that Clwyd also happened to be President of a British organisation called “Indict”, which was set up ostensibly to bring abusers of human rights in Iraq to justice under international law. To any fearless researcher, it was a standard disinformation outlet and money-waster. It was awarded $3 million from the U.S. State Department under the Iraq Liberation Act passed by the U.S. Congress in 1998. Britain provided political support, and financial aid came from another unnamed nation (most likely Kuwait). In the 5 years of the existence of ‘Indict’ (it ceased operations in 2003), it did not achieve a single result and articles appeared in the UK press calling for Clwyd’s resignation. It was embarrassingly obvious that ‘Indict’ was only a puppet organisation for the USA ‘security services’ — one of very many puppet organisations, I might add. This is international ‘psyops’ in action. Psychological operations carried out on a global scale too — of which most people today are completely ignorant, and dare one say ‘wilfully ignorant’ because even if they are informed, many steadfastly refuse to believe it.

The invasion of Iraq was one of the most blatant instances of massacre and unjust warfare, even genocide, since the equally horrific debacle in Vietnam. The US government was able to get away with this only because ‘mostpeople’ went along with it or remained silent. There was a price to be paid for speaking out; namely, assassination, and many ‘non-embedded’ journalists who were more interested in truth than in perpetuating propaganda lost their lives in very strange circumstances, as I detailed in my article ‘The Sword’s Fear of the Pen: The Assassination of Writers, Artists & Whistleblowers’.

The lies which were told again and again about weapons of mass destruction and Saddam’s capability to use them was all part of a deliberate psychological operation to engender fear and insecurity, and the vast majority of people were fooled by it. Only an intellectually and spiritually impoverished, utterly dumbed-down population could be so prone to such propaganda, and nothing much has changed since then. In fact, the gullibility has considerably worsened and become even more militant. It is our responsibility to educate ourselves and refuse to be counted amongst them; for, since then, the use of psyops has increased hugely with the subsequent global so-called “war on terror” regime which came on the back of it, about which I have already written much elsewhere.

The Satanic Background to United States Psyops

Before going any further in this section, it would perhaps be pertinent to demonstrate the distinctly dark background to US psychological operations. The Psyops 'community' has now had many more years to perfect its techniques, using mass experiments in mind-control to gain understanding as to which techniques are most effective. This is where it starts to get very interesting and distinctly weird.

A certain Lieutenant-Colonel Michael Aquino was a leading figure in the development of the U.S. military's psychological operations and has long connections with the CIA and special forces. He was one of the masterminds behind the MKUltra mind-control program of the CIA (as portrayed in the film 'Conspiracy Theory' with Mel Gibson, though the movie did have a rather silly and naïve ending). Now, Aquino is a former member of the Church of Satan who left Anton LaVey's temple to establish his own 'Temple of Set' in the 1970s, which describes itself in its own literature as: "an Initiatory organization dedicated to the Prince of Darkness and to exploring Black Magic in all its facets". Aquino is also a Nazi-sympathiser who caused a storm when he carried out a black magic ritual at Wewelsburg Castle, the same place Nazi SS chief Heinrich Himmler had used and who Aquino had been trying to invoke in the ritual. He was also co-author of a report entitled "From PSYOP to Mindwar: The Psychology of Victory", which advocates the usage of Electromagnetic fields, ionized air, and ELF waves to control mass populations. This is the direction in which mind-control techniques have been heading, as we will see in the coming years. This, of course, is where the 'sophisticated' liberal mind of today will begin to switch off and put all this down to 'wacky conspiracy theory'. However, this really is no theory. Far from it! I am tempted to go off on a tangent to show what I mean but I must stick to the subject-matter in hand. You can just research it for yourself and be amazed.

In case you do not believe these claims that a leading self-confessed Satanist and high-priest of a satanic temple was also the founding-father of modern psychological operations and mind-control for global military special forces, check out his own curriculum vitae, which Aquino has published here: <http://www.xeper.org/maquino/nm/AquinoVitae.pdf> , where from page 10 onwards he openly shows his Satanist credentials. Another page on his website also displays those same credentials: <http://www.xeper.org/maquino/> . This evidence is historically well-documented and has highly credible testimony.

Aquino's book was used as a 'go-to' manual by the US military in the war in Iraq. It is seen as the foundational work in psychological operations. The reason I am sharing all this with you is so you know just what kind of darkness we are dealing with here. Satanism is not an element in some stupidly-lurid Hammer Horror movie starring Christopher Lee, Vincent Price and Boris Karloff! There is a vicious evil running amok in this world generating greed, consumerism, wars, militaries, intelligence/security networks, politics, corporations, banks, the pharmaceutical industry, the media, the movie industry, the vast network of paedophilia permeating every branch of state, such as the judiciary, entertainment industry, sports activities, schools, children's homes, law enforcement and military in all countries, and much more. Where do you think all that evil really comes from? Do people actually believe that it is random, in the same way that they foolishly believe the universe is? Not at all. There is a very real reason for the existence of all the evil in this world, just as there is a reason for the existence of the world itself. I will return to these subjects later below.

The Real World War III: The Battle for the Mind

It really is time to wake up! It is ridiculous for people to brag on social media about their ‘right-on’ Reiki certificates or meditation workshops or yoga credentials or the latest book of Rumi quotes which they are reading if they then post yet another propaganda report concocted by the CIA! Part of one’s spiritual development is to be able to see through such illusions with calmness and perception, because light exposes darkness rather than supports it. All of this is rooted in an age-long spiritual battle which lies way beyond what we can see with our eyes. This is what I call the real Third World War: The battle for the mind. The mainstream media as well as social media provide the perfect conduit for this darkness, as images and situations of an extreme nature, designed to generate sentimental, emotionalistic reactions in the world’s populace, are being staged regularly to generate chaos and misplaced passions while conditioning people to receive lies as if they are truth, darkness as if it was light. This is very easily done in the minds of people who are already primed to engage in false emotions, to believe anything and to act in an almost hysterical manner when the ‘right’ buttons are pressed. It is now high time to defuse those buttons! A lack of wisdom and insight after years of bombardment with propaganda and dumbed-down education provides very fertile territory for such manipulation as well as the prostitution of the human mind.

So, can you now see how important it is to be able to stand back and look down on all that is happening in this world — to see the hidden reality rather than be taken in and swept along by the false fronts presented to us in the media (of which ‘The Greta Project’ is a superb example)? In the same way that politics and parliaments represent the diversionary entertainment division of the dark powers controlling this world, the mainstream media represents the disinformation department of those same powers.

The falsely-based tale of the industrial shredder in Saddam’s armoury was just a very unsubtle, cheap form of mind-control to gain support for a war which exterminated millions of innocent lives (and still counting). And here’s the rub: Ann Clwyd, now 82 years old, is still serving as a British Labour Party Member of Parliament today! Which really goes to show that you can tell as many lies as you like in politics — even if they lead to millions being killed — so long as they are the ‘right’ lies (i.e. in the service of the power-elite, who will reward you for them).

A vast number of psyops and mind-control experiments have continued to toy with the malleable minds of the masses. Even the current ‘refugee crisis’ has been manipulated from the start through the psyop-based creation, control and weapons-supply of Al Qaeda/ISIS by Western powers in order to justify illegal intervention in yet another Middle-Eastern country’s business. The latest psyop and mind-control programme has been the presidential election campaign and actual election of Donald Trump. They have now reached the stage where they can almost instantly generate a form of mass mind-control, either to pacify people, anger them, excite them, shock them or horrify them. The powers are getting better at it all the time. They have had a long time to perfect it. They have been starting religious cults for decades and know exactly how to use one person to become some kind of idealized leader. Greta Thunberg is clearly being used in that capacity. She has all the right credentials for the role, as did another young girl in 1992, this time in a pony-tail, who also chided the United Nations with an ‘environmentalist’ speech at the age of twelve. Severn Cullis-Suzuki famously gave that speech (see image, above left), in which she painted the standard picture of coming doom like this:

“I used to go fishing in Vancouver, my home, with my Dad until, just a few years ago, we found the fish full of cancers. And now we hear of animals and plants going extinct every day, vanishing forever. In my life, I have dreamt of seeing the great herds of wild animals, jungles, and rainforests full of birds and butterflies, but now I wonder if they will even exist for my children to see.” (you can see the video of her speech on YouTube here: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oJJGuIZVfLM> ).

Now, twenty-seven years later, Severn is married with two sons and all those things still exist for her children to see, and of course she is also a millionaire on the back of her environmental concerns! There is a LOT of money to be made in this environmentalist panic machine. And that is precisely what the current alarm about climate change is really all about, as we will see below. Severn’s father is David Suzuki, the environmentalist and broadcaster, who is also now reputed to be worth $25 million dollars on the back of his work. It is unthinkable that he had no hand in pushing his daughter forward to give that speech.

The Psyop-Led Goal of All Faux-Environmentalism: Global Government

So, Greta Thunberg comes as a fitting successor to Severn Cullis-Suzuki (and the two met recently in Vancouver). The public testimonies of them both are pure ‘Atrocity Propaganda’, except for the fact that the atrocity in these cases is not a single terrible event enacted in the past or present but is the near future alleged climate-change doom of the planet in a tirade of fearmongering. All of this is being claimed as a result of environmental neglect and CO<sub>2</sub> emissions.

Severn gave the game away in her 1992 speech when she said: “We are all in this together and should act as one single world towards one single goal”. This is the goal of all the faux-environmentalist campaigning: The establishing of a single world government. To the naïve idealist (and especially the young idealist), who is unaware of where this world is heading, such a goal seems highly admirable. But in advocating ‘one-world’ government, they are falling straight into the schemes of the power-elite which has that firmly as its long-term goal. This has been so from time immemorial. The ‘one-world’ government of the power-elite on this earth (on behalf of the discarnate entities which empower them) is not really based on the common unity of all people but on a hegemonial dictatorship rooted in power, greed, and the demonic desire to dethrone God (about which much more will be said below).

The Kind of Mind which is Easily Controlled by the Power-Elite

One can actually use the spectre of Greta Thunberg and the reactions which she provokes in people as a yardstick by which the level of their gullibility to psyops, the prostitution of their minds, or their general discernment, can be measured. Basically, if you believe that Greta Thunberg is “a remarkable young woman with a vital message to the world and a potential future leader of the planet”, then I need to tell you that you are sleepwalking through this world and have very little discernment indeed. ‘Woke’ social justice warriors will come in this category, because they are not really ‘woke’ at all but really only follow the latest politically-correct craze, which now happens to be Greta. After all, Greta comes from a highly politically-correct family which is part of the 'politically-correct elite', to be precise. For such a way of thinking actually exists in Sweden, where a huge number of privileged 'right-on', 'woke' people in show-business have taken pride in thinking of themselves as the 'Politiskt Korrekt Eliten', which Greta's mother is endorsing in the photo (see image, left), as denoted by her 'PK Eliten' T-shirt. Only in a gullible country like Sweden would one find people who are so proud of being politically-correct (i.e. conformists to a corrupt system) that they will even wear imprinted T-shirts to prove it!

What kind of people believe that Greta Thunberg is a marvellous example of a 'woke' teenager exercising her 'superpower', and who is also a potential world leader? Why, of course, the same kind of people who laugh at you and call you a 'conspiracy theorist' when you begin to share with them about what is really happening in this world. Exactly the same people who watch TV and read newspapers uncritically. The same people who believe in the system and vote for corrupt politicians. The same people who are politically correct in all that they do and say (and who love to point the finger at others when they do not toe the PC line). These are the same 'woke folk' who spend their whole time spotting other people's racism, sexism, ableism, homophobia, transphobia, islamophobia, and any other -isms and -phobias that they can invent in order to evade eternal truth, oppose divine law, and embrace ephemeral 'causes célèbres'. The same people who buy into the divisive deception known as feminism. Which, of course, is why a female was chosen for the Greta role rather than a male; as a male would not have elicited the "you go girl!" feminist mentality or provided a role model for a future leader for, as we are continually being told by feminists, "the future is female"! 🙄 The same people who spout New Age rhetoric about 'the coming together of all nations', 'perpetual positivity' and see Greta as 'a 5th dimension Old Soul' who is here to lead the world into 'The Coming Shift'. This is not fiction. I have seen this being claimed on social media. They are the same people who champion 'neurodiversity', which is really nothing more than the normalization of mental and emotional disorders, thereby making it trendy to have Asperger's or (in the New Age scene) to be a 'Starseed' or a so-called 'Indigo/Crystal Child', all of which are claimed to possess 'superpowers'. All of which is also complete nonsense!

The Sixth Sense of "Seethroughness"

So we can see that this is all part of an emerging pattern, for those who have the eyes to see it. It is a pattern which is being orchestrated by the age-old forces of darkness on this planet (the seminal conspiracy, which is not a theory but a fact). For, as we have seen, the vast majority of the minds of the global population are as easy to mould as playdough (but a great deal less appetizing!). One needs to develop a huge amount of discernment and insight to even begin to see through the current barrage of psyops and mind-control activities currently being perpetrated on this planet. Once one has genuinely awoken from the somnambulistic trance that pervades humanity (as opposed to the stultifying stupor of being merely 'woke', according to the general understanding of that word), one develops what I call a 'sixth sense of seethroughness' about when and where psyops are in operation with intent to deceive.

There on in, you will only need to take one look at Lee Harvey Oswald and right away sense that he was a patsy chosen to take the rap for the murder of JFK. Or you watch the killing of Lee Harvey Oswald by Jack Ruby (Rubenstein) and you immediately sense that Ruby was a patsy too. Or you hear of the death of Lady Di and immediately sense that this too was a mind-control operation (assassination) designed to mess with mass human emotion. You see the twin towers burning on TV and you intuitively sense that it is a false flag operation. You see the lying politicians claiming there are weapons of mass destruction in Iraq and you sense at once that it is a false pretext for warmongery. You hear about the death of Dr. David Kelly and you sense in an instant that he did not commit suicide but was 'suicided' by assassins at the behest of the shadow government. You read about the 'suicide' of the great journalist, Jacky Sutton, in a public toilet in Istanbul airport and immediately you know in your heart of hearts that it could not have been suicide. You hear people speak approvingly about the need for global government and you know that they have been hoodwinked by darkness posing as light. You quietly and instinctively KNOW far too much. Your life consists of calmly and instantly seeing right through one dark incident after another which the vast majority of the human race accepts at face value. However, sadly, this can often be a lonely path on which you will be regarded by 'mostpeople' as a 'nutjob'. And you will realize too that this also is how mind-control works. But you will still relish your new-found insight because you will also wholly KNOW that truth is more important than anything else and, in any case, you cannot undo what I love to refer to as the 'sixth sense of seethroughness'. Once you have seen through the bullshit of this world, there is no turning back. It is both a blessing and a curse.

II. THE RED FLAGS IN THE AGENDA OF 'THE GRETA PROJECT'

There are a number of elements connected with 'The Greta Project' which give the game away and indicate where this is really coming from. I have highlighted six of them here. The first red flag in the agenda of 'The Greta Project' is this...

1. If Greta was a Real Environmental Activist, She Would Not Be Begging the UN

If you really want something to change in this world, the very last place you go for that is the United Nations! It is ludicrous to think that by crying and threatening corporate entities or corrupt organisations like the UN with eternal unforgiveness and by exclaiming, "How dare you!", that they are therefore going to change their actions and behaviour. The thought is completely laughable! They are going to continue right on course... and Greta is all part of that course. She has been groomed to generate public panic so as to enable those corporate entities and corrupt governing bodies to implement draconian environmental measures across the globe which will benefit them and make life intolerable for the masses. And all over the unproven claim that the humans are about to go into extinction due to the human generation of excessive CO<sub>2</sub>! A website which focuses on affairs in the East writes in a very insightful article:

"Even if one does not believe in mainstream notions of "climate change," petroleum-based transportation has a direct and undeniable impact on human health that must be reduced if not entirely eliminated. The wealth and power consolidated by big-energy is also a major social problem that needs to be confronted. If Greta Thunberg and her Fridays for Future activists wanted to "save the Earth," they would be gathering outside the headquarters of the corporations responsible for these offenses – not protesting outside the offices of the politicians they own."

<https://journal-neo.org/2019/09/27/greta-thunberg-and-big-biz-climate-charade/>

Absolutely! The United Nations is really nothing more than a staging post entity on the way to global government, but in itself it has no real teeth to do anything autonomously and is a mere puppet of the power-elite. Many of its resolutions against member countries go unheeded as it is. As it has been shown, “in the vast majority of cases, the governments violating UN Security Council resolutions are countries that receive significant military, diplomatic and financial aid from the US”. [See <https://www.haaretz.com/1.5127043> ]. This is the very essence of hypocrisy. One example of those benefactors is Israel, which as of 2013 has violated 45 UN resolutions! So why would one go anywhere near the UN to effect any real change in this world?

This whole ‘Greta Project’ is so cracked through and through. A mentally-challenged and plainly emotionally-disturbed teenager has been groomed to stage hysteria publicly and to perpetuate a deceptive myth at the meeting of an organisation which has no real power to do anything and is itself a deceptive front for the eventual creation of a totalitarian ‘one-world’ government! What’s up with that? If you want to be a real environmental activist, you do not go cap-in-hand to the United Nations and expect those in attendance to do anything about it. That would be like going to a mafia boss and asking him to give all the proceeds of his organisation to the local police federation! The United Nations, national governments, and any other official governing bodies are in all hock to the power-elite which really runs this world. Anyone else can only do what they are allowed to do, according to the agenda of the real earthly powers which, if you do your due diligence, you will discover are working for the forces of darkness in the shadows of this world.

However, if someone petitions the UN to actually enable the overall plan of the power elite (so that when the request is made, in this instance to bring in draconian measures to counteract the unproven climate-change claims), then the UN can pretend to be acting in response to the request (which was a set-up any way). Get it? In this case, one can then understand why someone might go to the UN in the first place. We should be able to see, then, that this is all really nothing more than a pre-planned, pre-programmed set-up. For the UN is merely a showcase for pretended beneficial change in society, masking its role in the facilitating of an eventual ‘one-world’ government.

The second red flag in the agenda of ‘The Greta Project’ is that

2. Greta Does Not Get Involved in Any Real Environmental Activism

Greta’s campaign (or, rather, that of her handlers) is not about altruism. It is not really about ‘saving the planet’. It is really all just window dressing to deceive you. For “window-dressing” read gaslighting. For that is what is happening: The public gaslighting of the masses in order to control their minds with falsehood and disinformation so they can be more easily manipulated. If you find gaslighting in a personal relationship to be repugnant, then to be consistent and avoid cognitive dissonance you should be finding the gaslighting involved in ‘The Greta Project’ to be equally obnoxious!

The whole Greta show is a pure self-interest fest. “You’ve taken my childhood away”. “I’m terrified”. “We have no future”. And so on. The only people who have taken away the childhood of that girl are her parents and her handlers. If Greta wants to know what it is like to have her childhood taken away, she would need to stop being a spoiled little rich kid from a privileged showbiz family and get down and dirty with the millions of kids who have no clean water to drink, or the families that have been deprived of a father through US bombing raids all over the world (about which she has never even said a word, and she will not because it would upset her puppet-masters).

This all reminds me of another New World Order enabler, Mother Teresa, who went all over the globe lecturing people about peace while the poverty-stricken peasants in her “sanctuaries” suffered terribly as she jetted everywhere and cuddled up to dictators across the world with her empty message of ‘peace’. This too is all hypocrisy. Where was Greta when her pal Obama was bombing the heck out of brown people across the world. Come to think of it, why is Greta not encamped outside the Karlskoga headquarters of the prolific armaments manufacturer, Saab-Bofors Dynamics AB, in her own country, Sweden (which has the highest per-capita arms exports in the world), rather than being pointlessly encamped outside a parliament building about climate-change? So-called ‘Parliaments’ will do nothing which is radical or useful. The reason she will not encamp herself with her little protest outside Saab-Bofors, is because it would make her extremely unpopular with her handlers. She has been pre-programmed ONLY to be concerned about the subject of climate-change, about which she has only received a one-sided story and on this she is pitifully ignorant. All of this must surely be because she is the subject of a psyop herself. What else could explain it? Her handlers know very well that so-called Asperger’s people (especially if they have a smorgasbord of other mental conditions such as OCD) have tunnel vision and get obsessed about one thing repetitively.

The real picture is that the whole world is going to hell in a handbasket, caused by evil corporate entities, greedy entrepreneurs, and the rampaging military bombing of countries back to the stone age. Yet Greta can only focus on the scam of so-called ‘manmade climate change’! There is a vast difference between being a real environmental activist, i.e. the kind of courageous individual who gets his or her hands dirty by standing in front of bulldozers which are in the throes of destroying a vital forest or other jewel of nature, and that of the faux-environmentalist who only gets all out of whack about the ‘soft’ issue of climate change. The genuine environmental activist will be hounded, persecuted, arrested and even killed by agents working for corrupt corporate enterprise and governments, while the faux-environmentalist will be feted by authorities and honoured by corrupt corporate enterprise. Why do you think that should be? Real environmental activists are never feted in the media, nor invited to speak at the United Nations, nor considered for a Nobel Peace Prize. They are instead ignored, or slandered, or ostracized, or persecuted and (if they still will not desist) they will even be murdered! [See the statistics in this article here: <https://www.scientificamerican.com/article/environmental-activists-have-higher-death-rates-than-some-soldiers/>]. That is what happens to real whistleblowers and campaigners on real environmental issues. As one researcher puts it about the climate-change strikers:

“The youths joining these movements undoubtedly have the right intentions at heart — but the movement itself is marketed toward youths specifically because they lack the experience and discernment needed to understand the difference between how government “works” in their school books and how it actually works when money and special interests are involved. Greta Thunberg and “her” movement — should they in any way actually threaten the special interests that still dominate Western society — would be marginalized, censored, smeared, and attacked across the media. At their protest venues — they would be tear-gassed, beaten, and chased off the streets. And any tangible ‘action’ that threatened to undermine big-business they advocated for would be promptly outlawed.” [See this link: <https://www.globalresearch.ca/greta-thunberg-big-biz-climate-charade/5690434> ]

So you can be absolutely certain, without a trace of doubt, that if any alleged environmental campaigner is feted in the media, worshipped by millions, invited to speak at the UN, patronized by the Pope and Barack Obama, or considered for a Nobel Peace Prize, s/he will be a compromised faux-environmentalist puppet of the globalists rather than a genuine environmental activist. And a compromised puppet is precisely what Greta Thunberg is. The harsh reality is that popularity in this world is the kiss of death and a sure sign of compromise!

The third red flag in the agenda of 'The Greta Project' is that

3. It is Very Easy to Make an OCD Teenager Become Obsessed About Something

There is a trendy new word being coined to justify Greta Thunberg's mental instability: 'Neurodiversity'. They always have to invent a name to put a positive spin on things when they want to sweep something revealing under the carpet. It is a form of euphemistic propaganda. Rather like the way that the weapon which was dropped on Hiroshima in 1945 was called 'Little Boy'!). It is now extremely trendy to say you have Asperger's and that many kinds of crazy is a great thing for society — like calling yourself an 'Indigo Child' or 'Crystal Child' because your New Age politically-correct parents have brainwashed you into thinking that your self-centred, anti-social, screwed-up narcissism is a unique 'superpower' and will be helpful to your role as a leader assisting the alleged "coming shift in human consciousness"!

The world gets weirder every day! Narcissistic, badly-behaved youngsters who claim to have 'superpowers' can justify their nuttiness on the basis that they've been 'born special' and even claim that they are alien incarnations from another dimension, as some have claimed to me personally. Increasingly, mentally-disturbed people are dictating what we should be thinking about the environment, gender, sexuality, immigration, and middle-eastern religions; and, if we politely disagree, we will be accused of being 'Nazis', 'extreme right', 'sexist', 'racist', or a 'this-a-phobe', 'that-a-phobe' (even if we are not afraid of any of it!). There is a dark agenda behind all of these smears; for slander and false accusations come from the realm of darkness itself.

It takes a lot of courage to swim against this polluted tide which will inevitably issue in people being arrested and imprisoned for simply believing in something and being quietly true to their beliefs. Actually, this has already started to happen in embryonic form. The next few years are going to be very revealing indeed.

The fact is that Greta Thunberg was diagnosed with mental illness or emotional disturbance from an early age. I do not want to stigmatize someone simply for being genuinely mentally ill. But I would draw the line at making someone with obvious mental and emotional disturbance become a world spokesperson for a global cause which allegedly threatens the planet with imminent extermination! This is the issue. I have huge sympathy for anyone struggling emotionally or psychologically and I have done much counselling in my time of people across the entire spectrum. But this is a vulnerable young girl with mental illness who has been terrified, through brainwashing by unscrupulous people, into believing patent falsehoods about climate-change and the future.

She says that her Asperger's helps her to think outside the box. But it has not. If you want to think outside the box, you do not appeal to a bunch of utterly corrupt so-called world leaders to make radical changes in the world that they are corrupting! She also claims, encouraged by her mother, that ‘her superpower’ helps her to see the invisible CO<sub>2</sub> in the air as if it was some kind of alien force coming to destroy the world rather than the building-block of nature that it is! The journal ‘Psychology Today’ initially wrote in an article about her that Greta had been diagnosed with “several mental illnesses” from early in her life. But in a later edition that phrase “several mental illnesses” had been removed. Now why would that be? The reason is surely because there is a lot of pressure on media sources not to ‘big-up’ Greta’s obvious emotional disturbance. You can read more about that here: <https://www.theblaze.com/news/2019/09/26/psychology-today-article-blasted-conservative-commentator-for-calling-greta-thunberg-mentally-ill--yet-initially-admitted-she-has-been-diagnosed-with-mental-illnesses/amp#aoh=15695892820923> .

The sad reality is that Greta Thunberg is an emotionally-crippled child who has undergone an abusive childhood while her mother gallivanted around the world as an opera singer and Eurovision Song Contest competitor. Her mother, Malena Ernman, recently published a book entitled “Scenes from the Heart”, which was given only one star in a devastating review by the Danish journalist, Mikael Jalving, in the newspaper Jyllands Posten (Jutland Post). If you can read the Danish language, you will find his scathing review of the book here <https://jyllands-posten.dk/premium/kultur/anmeldelser/litteratur/ECE11376493/man-skulle-tro-at-bogen-var-en-karikatur/> . Jalving led the review by saying, “I’d rather report her mother to the police than review her book for the newspaper. It’s horrifying reading”. There is an article online which deciphers this book review for an English reading audience in Sputnik News, which you can find on this link: <https://sputniknews.com/environment/201906031075568179-sweden-greta-thunberg-criticism/> , in which it is said:

“According to Jalving, Ernman’s book conjures a picture of a family that’s disintegrating. Jalving believes Ernman focuses too much on making Greta Thunberg a star instead of addressing why both her daughters are so sick and feel an extreme urge to save the world instead of dealing with their own teenage lives”.

Ernman’s failure to admit that her family is dysfunctional and refusal to seek help to deal with it, while rushing around trying to save the world, is a textbook case of what is known in psychological terms as ‘projection’, by which one projects the internal sickness onto something ‘out there’ which needs to be changed (such as ‘the environment’ or any other social issue), instead of dealing with the problems internally. There is a great deal of projection in an awful lot of social activism, which is often used by social activists as a way of bypassing their own issues. 😊 In another quote from his review, Jalving wrote:

“I think ‘poor girl’. She would like to be an adult but has not been allowed to be a child. Her childhood is gone, and now she is a kind of grown-up child. And now that her mother is not as successful anymore, I suppose her career has come to a standstill, which is why she has kidnapped her eldest daughter and is using her skills”.

It was Greta’s unstable mother who ‘stole’ her childhood and blighted her children with her own instability. Even Greta’s little sister, Beata, has been diagnosed with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), Asperger’s and OCD, and the poor girl is being pushed into the limelight as a (very mediocre) singer [see a YouTube video of Beata singing in a show: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YcKk2ejetsI>]. However, one cannot say anything about the very clear emotional disturbance of people who are now being set up as ‘wonderful examples of youthful idealism’ and as ‘tomorrow’s leaders’, or one will quickly be labelled as ‘Neurodiversophobic’. (There you go... I have created a trendy new portmanteau word for you so you can run with it! 😊). Now, such disturbed and brainwashed people are not only being hailed as ‘the next world leaders’ but they are even being depicted as saints (see the ‘Sancta Greta’ image, left, of which there are many different examples designed by Greta-worshippers out there in cyberspace)!

Similarly, as the millions of hypochondriacs today who falsely claim to be ‘gluten-intolerant’, or allergic to gluten, bring genuinely gluten-intolerant people (e.g. Coeliacs) into disrepute, so do the multitude today who claim to be ‘neurodiverse’ and claim that their Asperger’s is a kind of ‘superpower’ or trendy flag to wave, thereby bringing genuinely mentally-ill people into disrepute. Coupled with this, the mass of people in the world are constantly bordering on hysteria because their conditioning means that they are very easily triggered into pseudo-emotional reactions against whatever the forces of darkness require. Most people no longer know how to experience genuine emotion but can only mimic pseudo-emotion or display hollow emotionalism and histrionics. You can see that exemplified in the so-called ‘Twittersphere’, where the mob rule of the wilfully-ignorant runs riot whenever a public figure triggers their wrath by saying something politically incorrect (which is actually usually true). The masses have been successfully groomed into the rejection of truth and the readiness to believe the most stinking pile of bullshit imaginable. Reality shows on TV have played a role in this, where people are mesmerised by banality and neurosis, while stultifying dumbled-downness and extreme emotionalism rule.

It is very easy to see that Greta’s well-documented “several mental illnesses” have predisposed her to becoming unhealthily obsessed about the alleged impending horrors of manmade climate-change and imminent extinction. Throw her OCD into the mix with the alleged label of Asperger’s and you wind up with a timebomb of panic and intransigent obsession. This is surely not a person who anyone would want to be ‘the next world leader’! What a crazy world this is, as the lunatics take over the asylum in even greater measure than they already have. This normalization of mental disturbance and emotional instability has resulted in the world becoming crazier every day, while — in another move of classic projection — relatively sane dissidents and whistleblowers become ostracized and outlawed as freaks and troublemakers!

The fourth red flag in the agenda of ‘The Greta Project’ is the way that

4. Greta is the ‘Pied-Piper’ for the New Midwich Cuckoos

I wrote earlier in this essay that “most young people have very little maturity of discernment and are often innocently ignorant and are also often full-time practitioners of extreme cognitive dissonance, holding misplaced ideals which makes them easy prey to emotional manipulation”. Everything which young people know has been inculcated into them from social media, their mobile phones, the empty, superficial, stultifying money-music they listen to almost constantly, their mind-controlling schools, their ignorant families, corrupt Hollywood movies, airhead YouTube ‘influencers’, whatever they happen to think is currently cool and trendy, plus the pressure of conforming to their utterly dumbled-down peer group. So when I see a whole pile of teenies demonstrating in the street about climate-change, I am not filled with rejoicing at the marvelous activist idealism of our young. On the contrary! I am heartbroken that so many malleable young minds have been moulded by outside forces to toe the line of political correctness and fall for a complete chimera.

In John Wyndham's book "The Midwich Cuckoos" (1957) — which was twice made into a film called, "The Village of the Damned" — though I think that the one from 1960 is by far the spookiest) — a group of 61 children (see examples in the photo, left) are born from local women as a result of some kind of xenogenesis (i.e. it wasn't the women's husbands who fertilized their wives but some alien force from another dimension). The children cause all kinds of mayhem in the village and are plainly working to an agenda. They also deal ruthlessly with anyone who stands in their way. When I observe young people in this world today, I mainly see a kind of 'New Midwich Cuckoo' generation which has been completely brainwashed by forces which lie outside their families, neighbourhoods and communities. Their constant unfiltered use of social media and the pressures of conforming to each other — coupled with their narcissism, misplaced idealism, natural ignorance, gullibility, exaggerated sense of entitlement, and utter lack of discernment — has turned them into zombies for the power-elite. Those last five words, "Zombies for the Power-Elite", could almost be their slogan to put on their placards at a protest rally! Essentially, most young people are being controlled by demonic powers-by-proxy through all the corrupt elements which so easily influence them. Another thing to consider is that the spawn of the CIA's MKUltra mind-control experiments are living and working among you today, functioning as sleepers and change agents in all levels of society. Cloud-cuckoo-land!

Thus, using a mind-controlled girl like Greta — who "protests" only about a "safe" issue which has been pre-programmed by the power-elite — as a role model for young people to follow, has been a very shrewd move on the part of those who think they control the direction of this world. In this way, the power-elite is shaping, as well as limiting, the minds of the upcoming generation. To make young people think they are rebelling against the system when they are merely conforming to political-correctness, and supporting what the power-elite desires, is a monstrous coup d'état for that power-elite! All those school-children striking about climate change and worshipping "Sancta Greta" are not representative of rebellion against the system but are demonstrative of the successfully high level of brainwashing of young people today. Their cognitive dissonance is boundless. They whine about an environmental issue but live lives which are completely at odds with the issue. (Oh, and they forgot to put "No McDonalds" on the funny cognitive dissonance poster above! 😊). The New Midwich Cuckoos are alive and living amongst us. It will not be long before they start reporting their parents and friends to the authorities for breaching the strict environmental laws (plus other "hatecrimes") which will inevitably be coming down the pipeline.

The fifth red flag in the agenda of 'The Greta Project' is in

5. The Hypocrisy of Greta's Whingeing

During her speech to the UN, Greta Thunberg said in her prepared statement: “You have stolen my dreams and my childhood!” I do not think that was really addressed to the right people. As I said above, if anyone has stolen her childhood, it is her parents! Her childhood has also been stolen by all of those around her who have put such climate-change hogwash into her little head. And it is being stolen even more now as she gallivants around the planet with her entourage whipping up a frenzy in gullible people’s minds. I know that Greta also added that she is “one of the lucky ones” but that is a rather meaningless statement and does not mitigate the fact that she claims that her childhood and dreams have been stolen. Let’s face it, the very privileged childhood of a millionaire celebrity showbusiness family has not really been stolen in the tragic manner of a great many other children of this world who have really had their childhoods stolen. The millions of children without clean water or a proper roof over their heads. The millions of orphans of war across the world. The millions of children being exploited for child labour or even as soldiers in desperately dangerous situations. The millions of children who do not know where their next meal is coming from. These are the real ones who have had their childhoods stolen. For Greta (or whoever writes her speeches) to talk about having her childhood “stolen” is nothing more than hypocritical whingeing.

The sixth red flag in the agenda of ‘The Greta Project’ is in

6. The Malevolent Labelling of Those who See Through ‘The Greta Project’

Supporters of Greta Thunberg write off those who refuse to buy her message by styling them as “angry white male climate-change deniers” and claiming that they are frightened of her “because she is a powerful independent woman”. I do not think I have ever heard anything more ridiculous than that. These are standard propaganda smears. Just like when you gently point out that Islam is anything but a religion of peace you are labelled as being ‘Islamophobic’, as if you have a phobia and are frightened. This is so silly. Regarding the smear of being an ‘angry white male climate-change denier’, I must assert that I am not remotely angry. That is not my style, as any of my friends will tell you. Also, I am not ‘white’ — merely a kind of sallow-suntanned colour! So if I ‘blackened-up’, would that make all the difference to my credibility? 🤔 Wait... I will then be accused of “cultural appropriation”. So they have really got me boxed in here! 😊 And why is it always “male” critics who they take issue with? There are just as many women who can see and openly say that Greta Thunberg is a manipulated phenomenon. So that “angry, white male” stuff is provable nonsense. I do confess, though, that I am uncompromisingly male (no gender confusion or apologies here). I know which of the two genders I am! 😊 And I am not a climate-change denier. Climate-change is real and has been from time immemorial. So, the charge of ‘angry white male climate change denier’ is a pure propaganda label designed to falsely malign those who dare to question the politically-correct conformist agenda.

One commenter I noticed on social media said, “so many men dislike Greta because they have self-esteem problems and feel insecure that a young lady is taking over”. 🤔 How utterly hilarious! Taking over what exactly, may I ask? Taking over the news slots on the compromised media! That is the only ‘takeover’ I can see, apart from taking over people’s gullible minds with her conditioned beliefs. Puppets like Greta will come and go when the power-elite has done with them. They are taking over nothing. This accusation is rather like that levelled at any man who writes a scintillating critique of feminism, when they say that he is obviously ‘threatened by strong, independent women’. That is merely one more very easy smear tactic which avoids having to come to terms with what the man was accurately expressing. I suppose that I will now be accused of ‘mansplaining’! 😊

So what is really going on here? First of all, they programme a young girl to stand before the world threatening everyone and saying, “How dare you!”. Then, when people begin to take the whole tacky show apart, those responsible for putting her there say: “How dare you attack a young girl with Asperger’s, you absolute bully!” So to Greta’s handlers and parents, I say this:

“Hey! It was YOU who put that poor girl up there as an Aunt Sally at a coconut shy, reprimanding the world. What kind of cruel, insensitive people would do that? For that, there will be comeback from people who care more for Truth than you do. So soak it up. It is clear that you used an emotionally-vulnerable young girl to try to prevent people from coming back at her in any way. But they are really coming back at YOU! So do not ask me, ‘How could you be so cruel to a vulnerable girl?’, when you are the ones being cruel for filling a young girl’s head with nonsense then making her into a target for such falsehoods because of the implied emotional blackmail!”

I know that Greta will never read my words, which are not really aimed at her personally but rather at her handlers, or those behind her handlers. Even if she read them, she would be unable to comprehend what I was talking about or would just think that I am another ‘threatened male’ dishing out ‘hate speech’. I would simply be dismissed as another white man with a grudge unable to take it when a female takes over the world! What a clever psyop this is! Indeed, one of the best yet. Perhaps, may I say, even better than Brexit. Hmm... come to think of it, maybe not! 😊

III. THE NEED FOR A SPIRITUAL UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT LIES BEHIND CLIMATE-CHANGE HYSTERIA

Before going any further into the subject of this little essay, I believe that it is necessary to state that without a spiritual understanding of the metaphysical situation which lies behind the current hysteria about climate-change, one will either be utterly baffled, or be swept into one of the two divisive stances which I mentioned earlier. I wrote above that, “once you’ve seen through the bullshit of this world, there is no turning back. You will find it to be both a blessing and a curse”. The real difficulties (for one’s health and sanity) occur when one merely sees through the bullshit of this world but fails to then go on to see the spiritual backcloth to the entire cosmic scene in its totality. For if we only merely have an intellectual or factual grasp of the dark agenda behind so much conspiracy and outright evil in this world, then we will be swamped with feelings of nihilism, terrible dread, and impending chaos. However, when one couples with that a truly genuine spiritual understanding of what really lies behind the deceptions and darkness of this world, then one will not be swamped, flummoxed, or even driven to insanity and suicide (as sometimes unfortunately happens).

Climate change is real. But humans are not, as the new faux-environmentalists are claiming, a very significant cause of it. One has to view such anomalies in the world’s climate from a spiritual standpoint at the outset. Without this, we will have abnormally fearful delusions and neurotic or deranged reactions, such as those that are evident with Greta Thunberg’s mania and the bizarre behaviour of such organisations as Extinction Rebellion. As an example of that, please take a look at the man in this video who is in a completely hysterical state about climate-change. This is exactly what I mean by feelings of terrible dread, emotionalism and misplaced histrionics. https://videos.metro.co.uk/video/met/2019/10/08/7376206433392442483/960x540\_MP4\_7376206433392442483.mp4 .

Here is the crux of the matter: We have lost touch with the fact that this is a fallen world due to the descent into 3-D matter and the corresponding human failure to live according to divinely laid-down principles. This, in turn, has resulted in massive geophysical anomalies which can have cataclysmic consequences ranging from incoming meteorites to vast floods, ice ages and desert-making droughts. Thus, fluctuations — even wild ones — in the Earth’s climate are no more weirdly anomalous than earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, tsunamis, or other geophysical events, as even a rudimentary examination of the facts in climate history will reveal. Climate-change is part and parcel of this cracked and fallen world. Frankly, given the variables involved, it is an absolute miracle that some kind of relative ‘normality’ of conditions conducive to comfortable living flourishes on this earth at all, allowing humans to go about their daily business without being continually wiped out by catastrophes!

The spiritual heart of the matter is that most, if not all, of those who are rabidly panicking about climate change — or who are taken in by Greta’s histrionics — are approaching the issue from an entirely atheistic, or completely humanistic, standpoint, believing that the world simply ‘happened’ randomly and evolved in the Darwinian sense and that only humans can change it or save it. This is the real kernel of the climate-change issue: The failure to see this world as the result of a creative act on the part of The Ultimate Power which is way beyond our normal avenues of understanding — a Power which is never out of control in any way. Do you really believe that mere humans are the ones ultimately in control of when this world will end or whether it will or will not? We are certainly created as stewards of the earth, and that denotes responsibility. Therefore, humans are commissioned to behave responsibly with creation. A creation which, I might add, is not of humans’ own making originally, but a place into which they have been put by an outright act of creation. But to believe that it is WE who are solely in control is not only laughable but is a kind of tragedy concerning intellectual and spiritual dissociation — essentially, anomie and alienation from the Divine.

The whole climate-change fiasco can only be viewed fruitfully when one understands that this planet is a kind of living entity which has been created as the spherical theatre of the human experiment by a Power beyond normal human comprehension. When one has a quiet understanding of the creation, the purpose of it, and the importance of being in tune with divine law, one has no need to obsess about ‘saving the planet’. For the planet, as a ‘servant’ of the Divine being who created it, is perfectly capable of saving itself. This Earth can flick us off its complexly wonderful body as easily as a dog can scratch some troublesome fleas from its back. No one who believes in the Divine could ever become obsessed with a desperate need to save the planet. For when one understands that there is a creative force behind the cosmos which is in control, one realizes that it is infinitely more important for people to get themselves in tune with that creative force than it is to devise money-spinning methods of hyped-up ‘environmentalism’. It is our lawlessness in the face of the Divine which is the real issue when considering what happens to this Earth, or on it.

It is true that humanity was created to be the ‘stewards’ of this world and we all have a duty to be responsible for the husbandry of it. The greed and selfishness which have characterized so much of human behaviour in the past and present are very much at odds with what is expected of us by the divine power behind the creation. But the solution to that is not more greed or atheistic delusions about ‘planetary salvation’. For, as I will show below, the behind-the-scenes financial forces which are using Greta Thunberg as a climate change “messiah” are merely seizing on “green” issues as a way of increasing their control over world affairs in order to generate a ‘one-world’ system of government, while at the same time making a packet out of it for themselves.

The term “Climate-change messiah” to describe Greta Thunberg is not an exaggeration either. The virtually atheistic Church of Sweden has been ‘bigging her up’ to such an extent that last December the parish of Limhamn declared on Twitter: “Announcement! Jesus of Nazareth has now appointed one of his successors, namely Greta Thunberg” (see image, left, for original tweet). And in September 2019, the Church of Sweden in Malmo rang their church bells to coincide with Greta’s ‘Global Climate Strike’. This is no wonder when one considers the fact that “many Swedish clergy became strong supporters of state socialism. Moreover, they acquiesced when control of the Church passed into the hands of avowed atheists”. [This astutely accurate quote is taken from the article at this link: <https://acton.org/publications/transatlantic/2019/05/10/secularizing-church-sweden-politics-alone>].

Greta also had an audience in Rome with the Roman Catholic Pope, who is himself an impostor and ‘one-world’ government advocate (as I will show in the final section of this article), claiming to be Christ’s representative on earth and leader of Christ’s church, selling it out through false authority, systemic corruption and a betrayal of the original message of the Christ. This world, in many different departments, both secular and religious, is being overtaken by false messiahs and false prophets — exactly as the real Christ himself has predicted!

Until one has fully grasped that we are in the midst of a spiritual battle, which is the true state of affairs which lies behind the apparent chaos and presence of so much evil in this world, we will not even begin to make sense of the direction in which this planet is heading and what the future outcome will be. I am speaking here about the presence in this world of discarnate forces and powers which come from outside it — angels and demons (archons) which influence human affairs in a major way, both individually and collectively. This world is building up to an eventual climax which cannot be evaded, and which will make the most ambitious science-fiction film seem like a Disney cartoon. This is the destiny of this world, as the spiritual battle which the forces of darkness are waging on the power of the Light gradually reaches its zenith, after which there will be a reckoning for everyone on this earth. All this will be followed by a subsequent and complete transformation of this cosmos into the pure state in which it is destined to be. All the turmoil and tumult which we are witnessing on this earth are simply what the Christ called “the birth pains” of the new aeon to come. Climate-change, as an element of this fallen world, is part of that. I could write a book about all this... right here, right now! But I must stay on my charted course so that we can, first of all, understand that ‘The Greta Project’ and everything else I refer to in this essay is indelibly caught up with the spiritual battle, and is not just part of a random outworking of human affairs (even though many of the perpetrators will be entirely unaware of that).

Many will think that it is completely ludicrous to raise these spiritual matters in an article exposing the background of ‘The Greta Project’ and climate-change hysteria. But I believe that those two things together have resulted from the strategy of “the dark side” in the spiritual battle which is intent on forging the ‘one-world’ government that will purport to be for the good of humanity, but is really the climax of what satanic forces have been attempting to do for aeons: Namely, a world kingdom in which the idea of the Cosmic Creator has been removed and in its place a ‘World Teacher’ will arise making, as I said earlier, George Orwell’s ‘Big Brother’ seem like a boy scout. Let us delve a little more into this...

Fear: The International Key to Unlocking the New World Order

There is much evidence that a ‘one-world’ government is now being touted as the solution by which humanity must be saved from the allegedly burgeoning climate-change crisis. In an excellent article in Forbes business magazine in January 2012, Larry Bell (a professor at the University of Houston and director of its “Sasakawa International Center for Space Architecture”) laid out in detail “The U.N.’s Global Warming War On Capitalism: An Important History Lesson” [<https://www.forbes.com/sites/larrybell/2013/01/22/the-u-n-s-global-warming-war-on-capitalism-an-important-history-lesson-2/> ]. This is a brilliant introduction to what really lies behind climate-change hysteria — namely, generating a global quasi-socialist hegemony which relies on fear to control the populations, with the eventual aim of establishing a ‘one-world’ government. Here are some telling quotes from that article.

First quote:

“As Christine Stewart, then Canadian Minister of the Environment, speaking before editors and reporters of the Calgary Herald in 1998, said, “No matter if the science of global warming is all phony...climate change [provides] the greatest opportunity to bring about justice and equality in the world.”

How could justice and equality come about on the back of the fear generated by phony science? (Cognitive dissonance alert!). The code behind Stewart’s “opportunity to bring about justice and equality in the world” is that we should all back the corporate environmental agenda which will bring in the ‘one-world’ government (which they claim will bring about “justice and equality”).

Here is a second quote:

“When appearing on Fox Business News with Stewart Varney in January 2011, Greenpeace co-founder Peter Moore agreed that benefits of any global warming, to the extent that this is occurring for any reason, are greatly underrated: ‘We do not have any scientific proof that we are the cause of the global warming that has occurred in the last 200 years...The alarmism is driving us through scare tactics to adopt energy policies that are going to create a huge amount of energy poverty among the poor people. It’s not good for people and it’s not good for the environment... In a warmer world we can produce more food.’ When Moore was asked who is responsible for promoting unwarranted fear and what their motives are, he said: ‘A powerful convergence of interests. Scientists seeking grant money, media seeking headlines, universities seeking huge grants from major institutions, foundations, environmental groups, politicians wanting to make it look like they are saving future generations’.”

This next quote is the most telling of all, linking a ‘one-world’ government with the European Union:

“Think about words of a speech delivered by then-President Jacques Chirac of France supporting a key Western European Kyoto Protocol objective: “For the first time, humanity is instituting a genuine instrument of global governance, one that should find a place within the World Environmental Organization which France and the European Union would like to see established.”

“Humanity is instituting a genuine instrument of global governance”. Of course, the European Union is keen to see that established. For the eventual setting up of a global government is why the European Union has itself been established. A network of superstates like the European Union will be created across the world, which will then easily amalgamate into the proposed ‘one-world’ government. Here is the final quote which really seals our understanding of what the entire phony climate-change agenda is all about:

“If this sounds a bit too conspiratorial, consider the words spoken by former Soviet Union President Mikhail Gorbachev recognizing the importance of using climate alarmism to advance socialist Marxist objectives: “The threat of environmental crisis will be the international disaster key to unlock the New World Order.”

Meditate carefully on that last quotation from former Soviet leader, Mikhail Gorbachev, from a January 1990 conference in Moscow, which the original ‘Mister Global Warming Catastrophe’ Al Gore attended. For it clearly shows how ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ (which, in this case, is the hideous “threat of environmental crisis”) will be used as “the key” in order for the power-elite to gain its objectives through the establishment of its New World Order. Using the threat of environmental crisis is the global key to bringing in the much-vaunted New World Order, which is a coded expression for the hegemonial socialist-based global government so desired by the power-elite.

Soviet expert, Natalie Grant-Wraga, wrote an article in 1998, entitled “Green Cross: Gorbachev and Enviro-Communism”, in which she said that Gorbachev’s big plan involved “having environmental scare stories concocted and disseminated by pro-Moscow sympathisers and ‘useful idiots’ in academia, the sciences and the press” [quoted from “Climate Baffles Brains: Climate Charlatans Commit Intellectual Fraud on Reason”, L. Rowand Archer, Archway Publishing, 2019, which you can find at <https://www.waterstones.com/book/climate-change-baffles-brains/l-rowand-archer/9781480880993> ].

As we have seen, this is precisely how ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ works. The concoction and dissemination of scare stories in order to sway minds to get the desired result. Greta Thunberg’s native Sweden — as a predominantly atheist, New Age, liberal-left country — is no stranger to the demands for a global government. In December 2018, Torbjörn Tännsjö, a professor of philosophy at Stockholm University, wrote an article in the Swedish ‘Dagens Nyheter’ (Daily News) newspaper (<https://www.dn.se/kultur-noje/sa-kan-klimatkrisen-leda-fram-till-en-global-despoti/>), with the claim that a totalitarian one-world global government is the only way to prevent ecological disaster. He said: “If humanity is going to be saved at all, which is highly uncertain, this will happen with the help of an enlightened global despotism”. Nearly a whole decade earlier in 2008, Tännsjö had written a book, entitled “Global Democracy: The Case for a World Government” [see <https://edinburghuniversitypress.com/book-global-democracy.html> ]. In his 2018 article, he goes even further that in his book:

“We don’t have the time we need. Something has to happen quickly. A global government may be established through a coup, a kind of existential leap, where sovereign nations forcibly cease to exist. A global government in the form of global despotism takes over”.

“We don’t have the time” is a ‘buzz’ phrase in the manmade climate-change community. So when Greta Thunberg, speaking at Davos on January 26th, 2019, said, “Our house is on fire... We are facing a disaster of unspoken sufferings for enormous amounts of people... I want you to panic. I want you to feel the fear I feel every day”, she is merely promoting the ‘Atrocity Propaganda’ which Gorbachev enunciated twenty-three years earlier as “the threat of environmental crisis” being “the international key to unlocking the New World Order”. Essentially, Greta Thunberg — far from being a visionary leader for humanity’s future — is a naively-unwitting mind-controlled slave parroting the threats of environmental crisis from the power-elite in their quest to establish their “New World Order” of global government. Truly, that poor girl is the ultimate ‘useful idiot’.

This New World Order, which bases its furtherance on hoodwinking the masses with fabricated fears, and the ‘one-world’ government which will arise from it, is the endgame of the dark spiritual forces to which I have been referring, and which has sought to ‘outgod’ God from the beginning. So, it is important to see the current climate-change propaganda theatricals against the background of a spiritual battle between the ‘forces of darkness’ and the ‘powers of the Light’.

We live in a fallen world which is enslaved to an unseen realm of darkness ruled, for now, by mighty beings who were once angels but are now known as demons, archons, or unclean spirits. This realm of darkness is programmed to create a global ‘kingdom’ on earth under a single leader who stands divine law on its head. The climate-change lobby fits into this by advocating the ‘greening’ of the world to gain increasing hegemonial control, using as many means as possible, in order to pave the way for the desired ‘one-world’ government. This is the spiritual agenda that one needs to grasp in order to understand the climate-change programme. And it is a spiritual agenda precisely because the forging of a ‘one-world’ government which is not according to divine law has vast cosmic spiritual implications. It is, in fact, the culmination of evil on planet Earth.

There is an increasing number of people who have rightly discerned that this civilization [sic] is building up to a ‘one-world’ government based on total control and totalitarianism. Up until now, separate nations and a multitude of languages have been in place for an important reason. This was a supernaturally-induced necessity designed precisely to prevent a premature coming-together-as-one of the world, because the next item on the prophetic agenda is the counterfeit ‘oneness’ cobbled together by the realm of darkness in its desire to ‘outgod’ God — the climax of the ancient spiritual battle. Some of you may think this all sounds absolutely nuts. But there will be others of you who will think that it all makes perfect sense. I know because I have been there. Understanding this is a key which opens a door to realizing that something of mighty supernatural importance for humanity happened nearly 2000 years ago, when a certain Person came to earth (I speak here of the Christ), which set in motion a time-frame countdown (to which he also referred) to the end of this present age of evil and deception. I remember realizing all of this fully, deeply, madly, completely, for the first time as I paced dazedly around in a field near Haddington, Scotland, with the sun setting on a ruddy misty-moisty autumn evening, like the one as I write this now on my balcony in the fading light of day. I was wringing my hands and weeping while the words, “It’s all true, it’s all true, it’s all true”, were coming from my lips over and over again as I fell to my knees in a kind of restless ecstasy of gratitude. That was almost thirty years ago, and what a long strange ride it has been since then! At that time, three decades ago, I was already writing about this ‘one-world’ government subject in a book that I was putting together. But the right conditions had not yet been in place for such a global government to happen then. The conditions are now beginning to be. And I marvel as I see Bible prophecy being fulfilled before my eyes!

Unless one perceives climate-change — or any potentially cataclysmic event — against a background of spiritual understanding, one will be shipwrecked on the rocks of irrationality and mundanity. All the events which we see developing across the world are not happening in a vacuum. There is a carefully unfolding time-frame and it is all going according to this plan. None of these evil, anti-divine events mean that God is out of control. God uses all of these events for the furtherance of the divine plan and for our education, if we will receive it. The fact that we are involved in a mighty spiritual battle is the only explanation for world affairs which makes sense. When one realizes the fact that “what is essential is invisible to the eyes”, it is liberating to the mind and soul.

In the next and final section, I will show what lies behind the faux-environmentalist movement and how it dovetails into the goals of the power-elite and its false alarms.

IV. CLIMATE CHANGE HAS BEEN A CLIMATOLOGICAL FACT FROM TIME IMMEMORIAL

In the scientific community, it is very easy to create a ‘norm’ which becomes self-perpetuating. An established group of scientists only have to set out to ‘prove’ something and say that it is so (in spite of the fact that it will no doubt later be disproved or modified anyway!). Thereafter, anyone who dissents or disagrees with the ‘received view’ in any way, is excluded from ‘eating at the table’. In other words, they do not get the plum jobs in universities, they are not invited onto all the prestigious committees, and they are effectively blackballed and ostracized from what would have been a thriving scientific life. In this way, the scientific community can, for a time, very easily hedge itself around against objective truth and innovation. When you add to that the fact that ‘most people’ (especially in academia) are narcissists and very easily bribable, enjoy prestige and want to be ‘on the inside’ and achieve recognition and monetary rewards, you can see how certain ideas get to gain the ascendancy. Such is the case with the manmade climate-change model which is being accepted as ‘the correct and only view’. Yet, there are thousands upon thousands of scientists who disagree with the so-called ‘accepted’ view. However, they have been made out to be fringe people of no consequence to real science. Often, older, wiser, more experienced scientists have been pushed to the sidelines by those holding the purse-strings in academia, in favour of younger, more ambitious scientists who ‘toe the party line’ on climate-change. It is also the case that some wiser, less manipulable, scientists have made themselves independent of academia’s purse-strings in order to pursue the truth about climate-change.

On this note, meet Dr. Judith Curry, the climatologist and the former chair of the School of Earth and Atmospheric Sciences at the Georgia Institute of Technology. You should familiarize yourself with her work. She is highly sceptical about the climate-change frenzy and has taken herself out of academia and peer-reviewed journals and now publishes her own papers so that the information will get out there. You will not hear about her in any mainstream newspapers or on the news (which, of course, is no surprise!). But her home page is here <http://curry.eas.gatech.edu/>, and her own blog is here: <https://judithcurry.com>. In her Statement to The Committee on Natural Resources of The US House Of Representatives on February 6th 2019 [see the PDF link here: <https://curryja.files.wordpress.com/2019/02/curry-testimony-house-natural-resources.pdf>], she said:

“Scientific progress is driven by uncertainty and disagreement; working to resolve these uncertainties and disagreements drives the knowledge frontier forward. Attempts by government policy makers to intimidate climate scientists whose research or public statements are perceived to be in opposition to a preferred policy narrative are enormously detrimental to scientific progress”.

The heart of the issue is that anyone who does not toe the party line on manmade climate-change will be ostracized in the ‘scientific community’. If you think that Dr. Curry is alone as a scientist who does not automatically buy into the manmade climate-change hysteria, you would be very much mistaken, even though that is what is made out in climate-change propaganda. On 23rd September 2019 — exactly the same day that the child, Greta Thunberg, thundered to the United Nations about ‘mega-extinction’ and ‘stolen childhoods’ — five-hundred scientists and other professionals sent a special message to the UN Secretary-General, António Guterres, and Executive Secretary of the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change, Patricia Espinosa Cantellano, with a ‘European Climate Declaration’. Here is a copy of their covering letter:

Your Excellencies,

There is no climate emergency.

A global network of more than 500 knowledgeable and experienced scientists and professionals in climate and related fields have the honor to address to Your Excellencies the attached European Climate Declaration, for which the signatories to this letter are the national ambassadors.

The general-circulation models of climate on which international policy is at present founded are unfit for their purpose. Therefore, it is cruel as well as imprudent to advocate the squandering of trillions on the basis of results from such immature models. Current climate policies pointlessly, grievously undermine the economic system, putting lives at risk in countries denied access to affordable, continuous electrical power.

We urge you to follow a climate policy based on sound science, realistic economics and genuine concern for those harmed by costly but unnecessary attempts at mitigation. We ask you to place the Declaration on the agenda of your imminent New York session.

We also invite you to organize with us a constructive high-level meeting between world-class scientists on both sides of the climate debate early in 2020. The meeting will give effect to the sound and ancient principle no less of sound science than of natural justice that both sides should be fully and fairly heard. Audiatur et altera pars!

Please let us know your thoughts about such a joint meeting.

Yours sincerely, ambassadors of the European Climate Declaration,

Professor Guus Berkhout — The Netherlands
Professor Richard Lindzen — USA
Professor Reynald Du Berger — French Canada
Professor Ingemar Nordin — Sweden
Terry Dunleavy — New Zealand
Jim O'Brien — Rep. of Ireland
Viv Forbes — Australia
Professor Alberto Prestininzi — Italy

Professor Jeffrey Foss – English Canada
Professor Benoît Rittaud – France
Morten Jødal – Norway
Professor Fritz Vahrenholt – Germany
Rob Lemeire – Belgium

EUROPEAN CLIMATE DECLARATION

There is no climate emergency

A global network of 500 scientists and professionals has prepared this urgent message. Climate science should be less political, while climate policies should be more scientific. Scientists should openly address the uncertainties and exaggerations in their predictions of global warming, while politicians should dispassionately count the real benefits as well as the imagined costs of adaptation to global warming, and the real costs as well as the imagined benefits of mitigation.

Natural as well as anthropogenic factors cause warming

The geological archive reveals that Earth’s climate has varied as long as the planet has existed, with natural cold and warm phases. The Little Ice Age ended as recently as 1850. Therefore, it is no surprise that we now are experiencing a period of warming.

Warming is far slower than predicted

The world has warmed at less than half the originally-predicted rate, and at less than half the rate to be expected on the basis of net anthropogenic forcing and radiative imbalance. It tells us that we are far from understanding climate change.

Climate policy relies on inadequate models

Climate models have many shortcomings and are not remotely plausible as policy tools. Moreover, they most likely exaggerate the effect of greenhouse gases such as CO<sub>2</sub>. In addition, they ignore the fact that enriching the atmosphere with CO<sub>2</sub> is beneficial.

CO<sub>2</sub> is plant food, the basis of all life on Earth

CO<sub>2</sub> is not a pollutant. It is essential to all life on Earth. Photosynthesis is a blessing. More CO<sub>2</sub> is beneficial for nature, greening the Earth: additional CO<sub>2</sub> in the air has promoted growth in global plant biomass. It is also good for agriculture, increasing the yields of crops worldwide.

Global warming has not increased natural disasters

There is no statistical evidence that global warming is intensifying hurricanes, floods, droughts and suchlike natural disasters, or making them more frequent. However, CO<sub>2</sub>-mitigation measures are as damaging as they are costly. For instance, wind turbines kill birds and bats, and palm-oil plantations destroy the biodiversity of the rainforests.

Climate policy must respect scientific and economic realities

There is no climate emergency. Therefore, there is no cause for panic and alarm. We strongly oppose the harmful and unrealistic net-zero CO<sub>2</sub> policy proposed for 2050. If better approaches emerge, we will have ample time to reflect and adapt. The aim of international policy should be to provide reliable and affordable energy at all times, and throughout the world.

There are many thousands of scientists who feel the same way. Guus Berkhout, founder of CLINTEL, a Dutch climate intelligence agency, writes:

“Yes, the earth is now warmer than 150 years ago and the increase in CO<sub>2</sub> will have contributed to this. But about how much, uncertainty has existed for decades. However, we are seeing more and more indications that the effect of CO<sub>2</sub> is relatively small, at least much smaller than climate models suggest. However, this positive observation does not reach our policymakers who continue to base all their policies on ‘oversensitive’ climate models. That leads to expensive measures that remedy little”.

Many are perceiving that the growth of the new faux-environmentalism is leading inexorably to a world under the rigid control of a ‘one-world’ government. In an insightful article, entitled “‘one-world’ government: Dystopia is closer than we think”, in the respected UK-based journal, The Spectator, David Samuel spells out how various forces are combining to pave the way for a ‘one-world’ government, including the mass immigration into Europe (the “refugee industry”, which the European Union calls a “beneficial catastrophe”), the actions of George Soros, global warming (“the biggest hoax in the history of mankind”), the “bought-and-paid-for climate scientists”, and on the back of that comes a final quote from former Czech president, Vaclav Klaus, saying: “The largest threat to freedom, democracy, the market economy and prosperity is no longer socialism. It is instead the ambitious, arrogant, unscrupulous ideology of environmentalism”. [See the full article here: <https://www.spectator.co.uk/2019/05/one-world-government/> .

The Ultimate Climate-Change Debunker Video

The truth is that statistics have been used in a highly disingenuous manner in the climate-change projections. All the standard manmade climate-change claims have been well debunked in the following short but sweet video — with a delightfully laid-back voice-over. in which overlays are used to prove that those who have devised the statistics have been selectively dishonest in the way they have presented them. This ultimate debunker video of the climate-change hoax can be found here: <https://youtu.be/8455KEDitpU>. You owe it to yourself to watch this video, as it exposes the cherry-picking mindset behind those who are brainwashing children such as Greta Thunberg for their own tendentious ends. I wish that Greta could watch this, but I doubt this kind of material would be let anywhere near her, and her handlers would no doubt find a way to discredit it.

An Environmental Writer Lays It All Out

It has been well-demonstrated that the panic about human-made CO<sub>2</sub>-based climate-change is avidly challenged by many scientists and other academics, thinkers and many involved in the environmental movement itself (and the way such people are made out to be cranks and quacks is very revealing). In fact, the whole CO<sub>2</sub>-based climate-change hoo-hah is every bit as much of a scam as believing that the earth is flat rather than a sphere! So what could really lie behind ‘The Greta Project’ and all the resultant panic and alarm? Why is it being pushed so much by the media, governments and other agencies?

The astute Australian writer on Natural Resource Management, Jo Tree, could no longer contain herself and has been bravely ‘coming out’ on social media about climate-change and the girl Greta, knowing that it would stir up a hornet’s nest. Yet she has still been willing to brave the furore which she knew would inevitably come in her direction. However, she was pleasantly surprised when the vast majority of those who responded to her post were sympathetic rather than hostile. Here is an extended quote from a recent piece by her:

“Greta has been totally saturating my news feed since her recent performance at the U.N. summit where she demanded zero carbon emissions within the next few decades. In some forums, anyone who dares to question her background, her backers, her grasp of the issues, her role, her demands, or anything about her, gets attacked as a ‘hater’, ‘coward’, ‘bully’, ‘misogynist’, ‘denier’ and much worse. However, her histrionics appear to have triggered a backlash, and many people are willing to risk vilification by the politically-correct crowd to express their concerns about the Greta phenomenon. For example, why is Greta focused only on carbon dioxide, ignoring all the other real and pressing threats facing her generation including the war culture, child trafficking, poverty, pollution from the military industrial complex including nitrates, sulfates and metallic oxide particulates, methane, aerosols, plastic waste, 5G, geoengineering, weather warfare, nuclear power, deforestation, forced vaccinations, GMO, toxic food, toxic pharmaceuticals, and so on?

Greta claims to be able to actually see carbon dioxide in the sky, having been emitted from human activities, so how come she can't see it being taken up by plants? Why does she see it as a poison instead of as the basis, along with water, of all life? Photosynthesis is a complex process whereby green plants in the presence of sunlight turn carbon dioxide and water into glucose, releasing oxygen in the process. In turn, the combination of glucose and oxygen during respiration is the process that fuels and sustains all life on Earth. Plants do best when there is 1000ppm of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere; currently there is roughly 400ppm. Levels have varied throughout history and the temperature change has not corresponded at all. There are so many factors at play, including solar cycles, galactic cycles, the earth's tilt, hydrological cycles, to name a few. It's completely unscientific to only look at one factor, measured in parts per million, and to insist that the climate is controlled by this single factor".

"To those who think that Greta and Extinction Rebellion, etc., are working for the benefit of humanity, I strongly urge you to do your due diligence and to research the truth about the so called 'Climate Emergency' narrative being pushed by the cabal controlled Mainstream Media and by the establishment, the Banksters and the Globalists and by their puppets such as poor, psychologically abused/manipulated Greta Thunberg and to please also look into the logical facts about who is really behind Greta Thunberg and the death cult 'Extinction Rebellion' (a beyond obviously controlled opposition movement), even though many who join up to these movements are well intentioned but nevertheless dangerously politically naive and scientifically illiterate, which is effectively a recipe for the enslavement of humanity by going along with the UN's Green New Deal 'solution' like lambs to the slaughter!..."

"There are many factors involved in weather and climate and focusing only on carbon emissions is a political agenda to control people, but not the corporations or military who are the entities responsible for most emissions, as well as most air and water pollution, which is causing harm to human health as well as environmental degradation. The environmental movement, including the anti fracking movement, has been hijacked by the climate change movement. The false solutions to the false problem include 'climate friendly' nuclear power, 'solar radiation management' and other forms of geoengineering, global carbon taxes, total 'smart' surveillance grid monitoring carbon footprints through 5G, the IoT, the IoBNT, an inventory and monitoring of every single thing on the planet, smart appliances, smart cities, social credit system, facial recognition, restriction of travel, and other things — all in the name of 'saving the planet'."

The heart of those words is: "The so called 'Climate Emergency' narrative being pushed by the cabal controlled Mainstream Media and by the establishment, the Banksters and the Globalists and by their puppets such as poor, psychologically abused/manipulated Greta Thunberg... is effectively a recipe for the enslavement of humanity".

This is what really lies behind the climate-change panic scenario. It has nothing to do with ‘saving the planet’ but rather with furthering the ends of the power-elite to increase their control over human affairs and establish their ‘one-world’ government (all with the support of the brainwashed-with-fear population). If you think all that sounds far-fetched, think again! The most astonishing systems of national repression and control (including state-induced disappearance of persons and roving government death-squads) were set up under considerably more primitive conditions in the Soviet Union under Lenin and then Stalin, Germany under Hitler, East Germany in the grip of the Stasi, China under Mao Zedong, Spain under Franco, and many South American countries under a variety of dictators in the last century. At this point in human history, technological advancement having reached its current stage, it is now becoming within reach to control the entire world in every way possible. And I can assure you that it is considerably more advanced in secret scientific and military projects than is being publicly revealed.*

The ‘eye-in-the-sky’ kind of repression and totalitarian control which would be necessary to bring about a ‘one-world’ government (which ‘mostpeople’, having been well conditioned in advance, will think sounds like a great idea to save the planet and prevent environmental disaster) could easily be implemented in a relatively short period of time — in just a few years or even less — for example, in a martial-law type of scenario (which, in GovernmentSpeak, is: “We must do this for your own good”), as the world’s few superstates come together in a phony show of unity. If you think that achieving something like this would be impossible, bear in mind that just a few years ago, it was unthinkable that one could receive a visit at home from the police merely for having ‘misgendered’ someone (while at the same time many burglaries go uninvestigated!). Yet this is now the case in the hyper-politically-correct UK, and this will be coming to a country near you very soon. Dramatic changes in world development can take place in very short periods of time. You had better believe that big changes are coming; and that the world’s brainwashed people (the very ones who have called you out for being a ‘conspiracy theorist’ and who have laughed you to scorn when you have suggested that it is all about control and totalitarian government) will blithely go along with it, without even realizing that what you have predicted is factually coming true! For the ability to think with logic and cognitive harmony will long have disappeared from the minds of most, thus providing the perfect fertile ground for the ultimate deception.

One does not have to force anything to fit into the developing ‘one-world’ government matrix. Things practically tumble in of their own accord! Many revealing bedfellows (aside from the Saint Greta crowd and the new faux-environmentalists) are now converging to bring in this kind of totalitarianism and ‘one-world’ government to fruition. One of the most interesting of them all is what is known as the New Age Movement. Let us just go into this a little...

The New Age Movement’s Advocacy of Globalism

Many more people than one may realise are now seeing through ‘The Greta Project’, gaining a knowledge of its perpetrators and making interesting connections. However, although many can easily see the connection between globalism and a ‘one-world’ government (which pseudo-coyly parks itself behind the manmade climate-change movement), not many are connecting it to the the New Age Movement. Yet, its adherents make obvious bedfellows because of the New Age idea that anthropocentrism has been a curse on the earth, that nation-states are a manifestation of separationism which runs counter to ‘planetary healing’, their philosophy of Gaiaism, coupled with the notion that the whole world should come together, borderlessly, as one. As I wrote earlier:

“Everything that is shaping the direction of this world is being done to establish the coming ‘one-world’ government (with a great deal of Alice Bailey UN-style New Age thinking thrown in for good measure), all of which will claim to be for the good of humanity, but which will ultimately be the vehicle for a global hegemony under a coming so-called ‘World Teacher’ (to quote the occultist, Alice Bailey) whose darkness will make George Orwell’s ‘Big Brother’ seem like a boy scout.”.

As I have written in many previous articles, and also in my 2018 book, “Narrow Gate ~ Pathway Strait”, the New Age movement has as one of its major goals the coming together of the whole world as a precursor to their imagined “Planetary Shift” which will give way to their long-awaited ‘leap in consciousness’. This is part of what they call “Ascension”, leading to the establishment of their New Age (which is itself a counterfeit stolen and twisted by neo-Gnostics from the Bible’s teaching about a ‘new aeon’ or ‘new heaven and new earth’). Ironically, the globalism of the dark and evil power-elite shares the very same ‘one-world’ government ideal as the New Age movement which claims to be ‘of the light’. But, in a way, there are no surprises there; for they are all working towards the same dark goal — although New Age folk do not see their beliefs as ‘dark’ because they have been deceived by evil spirits ‘channeling’ information to them which masquerades as if it is coming from the realm of light. Thus, they involve themselves in the establishment of a satanic global kingdom in defiance of divine law and in opposition to the real Power behind the creation — that is, the Almighty Creator, God. By this, I do not imply a nonsensical “man in the sky” or any other kind of mythological entity. Rather, I am referring to a vast and infinite being who is utterly beyond the puny ability of the human mind to grasp. This is why one can often only use somewhat inadequate terms like “Lord” or “Father”. (Although if one is blessed enough to experience the presence of the Creator, names become inadequate as a description of the Divine).

The New Age Movement is simply a deceptive rehashing of ancient Gnosticism (often referred to as neo-Gnosticism) coupled with the ideologies of the late nineteenth-century New Thought Movement and sympathetic magic. This is where the money, power and psychopathic evil of the secret rulers of this world converge with the darkness-posing-as-light teachings of the New Age Movement. (By the phrase “secret rulers”, I am referring here both to discarnate demons as well as to the human power-elite which does the bidding of the discarnate entities which lie behind it). They are all actually tentacles of the same ‘satanic octopus’ designed to lead people away from Truth. This is why I say that one needs a genuine spiritual understanding in order to grasp the full extent of the deceptive nature of the spiritual battle which is being played out on planet earth right now. Without that understanding, there can only be a kind of nihilism, a sense of hopelessness and the feeling of being stuck in the kind of Théâtre de l’Absurde promulgated by Albert Camus and other existentialist novelists and playwrights. What is unfolding in the world right now, as it has been from the beginning, is the gradual building of a one-world political and religious entity under the power of the forces of darkness; for such a thing has now become globally possible in terms of the advancement of technology and the ability to wield absolute planetary control with this technology, coupled with and enabled by the use of psychological operations, ‘Atrocity Propaganda’, and mind-control run through global intelligence networks.

When I speak of the ‘New Age Movement’, I am not referring to the assorted dilettantes and hucksters who sell you exorbitantly-priced angel cards, spirit-guide sessions, chakra cleansings, sound-bowl seminars, past-lives therapy, twin-soul workshops and patchouli/sandalwood diffusers at ‘Mind-Body-Spirit Gatherings’! All that is just trendy window-dressing for the real New Age. I am referring to hardline occult initiates who are in touch with discarnate entities which they have been deceived into thinking are benign and are doing their darnedest to manipulate large numbers of influential people at a high level in implementing the 'one-world' government scenario. For this is an essential element in genuine New Age philosophy. Their 'one-world' government is seen as a vital preparatory stage for their coming New Age 'World Teacher' (and the 'initiation' he will bring to the world) to effect the purported New Age, of which both are clear counterfeits of Bible prophecies. Thus, the returning Christ will be counterfeited in the form of 'the Antichrist' (posing as the 'World Teacher'), while the 'initiation' he will effect across the world will be what is known in the Bible as "believing the Lie"; and the 'new aeon' of the Bible will be counterfeited by the purported New Age. All this and so much more is prophesied in the Bible. This is why it is so ignorant, foolish, and presumptuous to dismiss the Bible as 'a manmade set of antiquated myths promoting the patriarchy, violence, homophobia and injustice' (as I have seen it described). Nothing could be further from the truth! The Bible, when understood correctly, is a supernaturally-integrated collection of books depicting history, allegory, poetry, and prophecy, revealing why we are stuck in this fallen matrix, while also revealing the way out of it. It also divulges that there is a dark strategy in place to bring about the fulfillment of a satanic agenda. The strategists have actually bragged about this strategy. As the New Age occultist, Alice Bailey (1880-1949), told her pupils:

"Very definitely may the assurance be given here, that prior to the coming of the [World Teacher], adjustments will be made so that at the head of all great organisations will be found either a Master, or an initiate who has taken the third initiation. At the head of certain of the great occult groups, of the Freemasons of the world, and of the various great divisions of the Church, and resident in many of the great nations will be found initiates or masters. This work of the Masters is proceeding now, and all their efforts are being bent towards bringing it to a successful consummation." [Alice B. Bailey, Initiation: Human and Solar, Lucis Publishing Company (formerly Lucifer Publishing Company), 1922, pp.61-62]

This is the real "Illuminati" (a somewhat hackneyed term that I generally try to avoid but which does characterize what we are dealing with — namely, false light), which involves people strategically placed by discarnate entities in governance, politics in general, quangos, organisations (e.g. the UN), business corporations, intelligence networks, religious organisations, and other spheres of high influence. Alice Bailey received her 'revelations' from one of the so-called 'Ascended Masters' communicating through 'channeling'. Bailey was the bridge between theosophy and the New Age agenda (being the first to popularize the term 'New Age'), and founded the Lucis Trust, which has its global HQ in the United Nations Plaza in New York and its European HQ in Whitehall Court, just 300 metres from the Houses of Parliament (the obvious purpose being to try and wield influence in political circles, just as the Findhorn Foundation does (see p.4 of this essay). They have an NGO within the UN called "World Goodwill", whose aim is to influence the UN to prepare the way for a single global government and a 'World Teacher' of humanity.

The entire New Age scene has been the result of manipulations by assets of the forces of darkness. It has been manufactured by, on one level, satanic discarnate entities posing as benign teachers (e.g. the so-called 'Ascended Masters' mentioned above) and, on another level, by dark intelligence agencies such as the CIA, which spawned the corruption of the antiwar movement through the widespread dissemination of LSD in counterculture society in the 1960s (which sent a lot of folks off into a blend of drug-induced psychosis and guru-led pseudo-Hinduism which formed the backbone of modern New Age "spirituality"), and also, through CIA asset, William Thetford (MKUltra medical professor), working inside Columbia University, New York, created the New Age “bible”, ‘A Course in Miracles’, which counterfeits Christ and has been brainwashing New Age people with false teachings ever since (not least because it was promoted by New Age ‘ambassador’, Oprah Winfrey, on her show throughout the year of 2008).

When one gets an overview of the tentacular methodology of the forces of darkness through intelligence networks, the media, TV, academia, Hollywood, paedophile networks (and that is before we even begin to look at the dark schemes of governments, the UN, corporate industry, militaries, arms manufacturers, etc.), then one begins to get an understanding of the true nature of the spiritual battle. As a very mundane example, a modicum of research (should you accept the challenge) will reveal that popular TV chat-show host, Ellen DeGeneres, is a CIA asset and her show is just one example of the way in which the agency today engages extensively in mind-control through the media. They did so in ‘Cold War’ times and must surely do so even more now that the game has intensified to such a degree. I could site thousands of similar examples. Yet, ‘mostpeople’ have been so completely brainwashed that they would consider me a lunatic for even suggesting this! Such is the kind of world we live in today, with its multiple layers of deception and dissimulation. ‘The Greta Project’, with Greta Thunberg as the hapless pigtailed patsy, is just one more part of this kind of dissimulation, and must be seen alongside the vast network of all other dissimulations. However, I am not writing this essay primarily for those who would (until they wake up) consider me to be crazy. I am writing it for the few for whom a light will go on as they make the connections and begin to see the huge forest of evil stretched out across this world, in spite of the distractions of all the trees!

The New Age Movement (by which I mean the real New Age Movement, rather than the yuppie pseudo-spiritual business people peddling trendy trinkets and workshops at extortionate prices and making out as if they are super-spiritual) is beaver away behind the scenes to create a ‘one-world’ government every bit as much as the European Union, the United Nations, and the new corporate faux-environmentalist movement. This is where it all dovetails into ‘The Greta Project’. In this insightful article, “New Age Spirituality: A Vehicle for Globalist Accelerationism”, the author writes:

“In more recent times, those at the helm of the so-called free market have come to the realisation that it is actually possible to benefit from the green movement itself. Not merely in terms of making money from alternative forms of energy, such as solar panelling, wind turbines or the sale of electric cars, but also from the relationship between New Age spirituality and ecological one-worldism. As we know, the capitalists would like nothing more than a single government that has the ability to oversee the entire globe, a desire that certainly fits in with the utopian dreams of your average liberal idealist, and if this can be achieved by mobilising millions of unsuspecting Thunberg adepts who somehow believe they are saving the planet then all the better. Especially when it can lead to the rapidly engineered ‘development’ of those countries which, as of yet, have still to develop Western-style economies. Imagine the profit that can be made by extending the technological dystopia into the heart of Asia and Africa on the basis that it is necessary for a more benevolent form of civilisation to ‘end poverty’. All the local savages have to do is hand everything over to the children of the rainbow revolution and they, too, will become part of the modern utopia.” [Emphasis added] [<https://nowhere.news/index.php/2019/09/24/new-age-spirituality-a-vehicle-for-globalist-accelerationism/> ]

That “modern utopia” (the writer was being ironic) is really a total dystopia posing as a ‘utopia’. So here is an interesting chart which I found on the internet, which pretty well sums up the dystopian direction in which the manmade climate-change hoax is taking us:

Do you find that far-fetched? I do not. For the Bible clearly prophesies a dystopian totalitarian nightmare of extreme restriction and persecution of anyone who refuses to bow down to the 'one-world' government and its God-opposing leader. And all that will have come about through false warnings about imminent extinction through climate-change. However, bear in mind that dire (and entirely false) warnings about environmental extinction at various levels have been going on for decades. Here is a little list in an internet chart for your contemplation and edification:

As a detailed addendum to the above list of environmental scare-tactics, you can read this very thorough August 2014 article from The American Thinker, entitled “120 Years of Climate Scares”. You will then surely be convinced that ‘The Greta Project’ is really only the very latest in an extremely long line of fruitless environmentalist doomsday claims over the last century and more. https://www.americanthinker.com/blog/2014/08/120\_years\_of\_climate\_scares.html. One can also add here this highly amusing (but close to the bone) spoof article which appeared in the BabylonBee, and which is entitled “We Have Only 12 Years Left Until They Change the Dates on Global Warming Again!” 🗑️ [ <https://babylonbee.com/news/experts-warn-we-have-only-12-years-left-until-they-change-the-dates-on-global-warming-again> ].

The Enforcement of ‘Eco-Fascism’ (and Much More)

However, I do believe in climate change — the real climate change, which has been fluctuating (sometimes wildly) from time immemorial, rather than the solely man-made climate change which stooges like Greta Thunberg are being used to propagandize. But fearmongering aside, there are environmental crises in a variety of ways other than any alleged manmade CO<sub>2</sub>-based climate-change. In fact, the climate-change phenomenon is not the real issue in the world of environmental concern, because we cannot make much appreciable difference to it. Whereas mountains of plastic in the oceans is a real environmental issue... because humans are the sole cause of it and can change it. The wanton destruction of forests is a real environmental issue... because humans are the sole cause of it and can change it. The killing off of beautiful species such as the Orangutan as a result of the creation of vast palm-oil plantations is a real environmental issue... because humans are the sole cause of it and can change it. Depleted uranium on battlefields is a real issue... because humans are the sole cause of it and can change it. The vast migration of uprooted families from completely destroyed towns and cities across the Middle-East due to black operations and the funding of terrorists by the United States, UK, other Euro nations, and Israel is a real environmental issue... because humans are the sole cause of it and can change it, if they have the collective will to do so. And so much more.... but we cannot make any appreciable difference to the fluctuations in global climate which vary according to very many conditions other than the mere production of CO<sub>2</sub> (which, in itself, is not the real problem). However, the whole present climate-change pantomime has become a cue for a hysteria which is completely unfounded and is yet one more ‘woke’ liberal cause-célèbre with which the power-elite can polarize people and stigmatize as ‘dangerous cranks’ and ‘deniers’ those who will not buy into it. This is rather like all the alleged ‘-ists’ and ‘phobias’ which they have invented to stigmatize those who do not toe the politically-correct line. How long will it be before refusing to go along with the man-made climate-change claim will be declared illegal — another ‘woke’ law with which they can suppress those of independent thought? Already, Greta Thunberg (or, rather, her handlers), on her Facebook page, is calling for the suppression of anyone who disagrees with her on social media! [See <https://www.facebook.com/gretathunbergsweden/posts/955223411512146> ].

It should also be said here that playing the role of an ‘environmentalist’ is vastly different to simply being a human being who respects nature and lives life in as loving and caring a way as possible. This is the problem with all ‘-ists’: Living one’s life according to an “-ism” generally involves some kind of unyielding fanaticism about an ideology, behind which lie ulterior motives and one can very easily fall prey to unscrupulous people. A human who has a love for nature and beauty does not need to dream up propaganda programmes designed to deceive people into accepting false premises about climatology. A human being who has a love for nature and beauty does not need to get involved in the projects of the new faux-environmentalists which are designed to increase hegemonial control of populations. For example, when one examines the faux-environmentalist group, Extinction Rebellion (or XR, as it has come to be known), one uncovers the same kind of fanatical ideology to which I refer above. I have been following this organisation with much interest. It is plainly, in origin, a psyop of the type which is dreamed up at a strategic operational meeting of the likes of MI5! This is why the police are so slow to make arrests, taking fifteen minutes to reach a fire-engine commandeered by XR that is spraying an unidentified red liquid everywhere (including on passers-by) outside the UK Treasury Department! [see <https://www.theguardian.com/environment/2019/oct/03/extinction-rebellion-protesters-spray-fake-blood-treasury-london>]. I think the response would have been very different if that had been a group spraying an unidentified red liquid protesting the funding of war-culture or the depth of political corruption outside the Treasury building.

The same lackadaisical approach by the police to XR has been noted in many other locations, such as at an XR protest in Cardiff, Wales, recently [see <https://www.walesonline.co.uk/news/wales-news/extinction-rebellion-cardiff-arrest-castle-16593315> ]. This kind of almost jolly ‘soft-touch’ from the police in the face of extreme disruption to ordinary people’s daily lives would only be enacted if there were orders coming from a higher authority (such as, for example, MI5 or Special Branch). It is clear that XR is every bit as much of a psyop as ‘The Greta Project’. Here are some revealing media about XR:

I recently read a Facebook post from Extinction Rebellion Scotland which was very revealing about the ‘right-on’, ‘woke folk’ who are being suck(er)ed into this organisation, many of whom are clamouring for enforced climate-change laws. Receiving nearly 6,000 reactions, 1,200 comments, and 5,300 shares, it shows how vast this movement is becoming with countless liberal-lefties getting on board to become patsies for the new faux-environmentalism. See here: [https://m.facebook.com/story.php?story\_fbid=914196068952891&id=669878010051366]. The political correctness in that post, and especially within the multitude of comments below it, is an education about XR sympathisers and a recipe for some future ‘eco-fascism’. For Extinction Rebellion ultimately wants to enforce their climate-change-correctness on everyone through an official body. These are people who claim to oppose political fascism but who openly support eco-fascism. There will come a time when that eco-fascism will become reality. This will be when friends, relatives and children will ‘grass’ on those who commit infractions of eco-law or who infringe politically-correct notions about gender, sexuality, religion, etc.

Having a vast network of fanatical informants was super-easy to pull off under Lenin, Stalin, Chairman Mao, and Markus Wolf (head of the Directorate of Reconnaissance which controlled the tentacular Stasi in East Germany). And so it will be today with the increased surveillance technology and huge number of citizen spies. “Citizen spies?” I hear you ask incredulously. Yes, indeed, citizen spies. Seventeen years ago, the following news headline appeared: “US planning to recruit one in 24 Americans as citizen spies". This was a story about the planned "Terrorism Information and Prevention System" (TIPS) For the full story, you can view the Sydney Morning Herald article at this link: <http://www.smh.com.au/articles/2002/07/14/1026185141232.html>]. If you want to know how that statistic of 1 in 24 compares with the informant and spy networks in earlier totalitarian regimes, Anna Funder reported the following chilling statistics in her fascinating book "Stasiland: Stories from Behind the Berlin Wall" (Granta Books, 2003):

"At the end, the Stasi had 97,000 employees — more than enough to oversee a country of seventeen million people. But it also had over 173,000 informers among the population. In Hitler's Third Reich it is estimated that there was one Gestapo agent for every 2000 citizens, and in Stalin's USSR there was one KGB agent for every 5830 people. In the GDR [German Democratic Republic] there was one Stasi officer or informant for every sixty-three people. If part-time informers are included, some estimates have the ratio as high as one informer for every 6.5 citizens". [See a review of Funder's excellent book at <https://www.salon.com/2003/06/25/funder/> ].

As things stand right now, the USA has more special forces than Hitler had at his disposal and a 'citizen spy' network that begins to mirror that of the old East German Stalinist regime in 'Stasiland'. However, most Americans would be in denial about this, rather like the way that the Germans were about Nazism in the 1930s. This is what the US Department of Homeland Security is all about. It is not really about 'security', as such, but about control. Such Orwellian use of euphemisms to disguise draconian control tactics is standard governmental policy today on both sides of the Atlantic.

It is becoming easier by the day for governments, acting under the power-elite, to suppress the populace generally. A 24th January 2006 Reuters report (now hidden in their archives) revealed US military plans to "swell the ranks of the Special Operations Command, including Army Green Berets, Navy SEALs and the top-secret Delta Force, to about 60,000 troops by the end of 2007". It is these crack commandos which function as the strong arm and assassination force (death squads) for the ruling elite as they span the globe with their murderous plots, overthrowing governments through psyops and the funding of terrorist opposition groups, kidnapping people to disappear them into indefinite detention (what is euphemistically referred to as 'extraordinary rendition') and setting up unmanned drones to bomb secret targets see the 14/2/2005 issue of "The New Yorker" at this link: [http://www.newyorker.com/archive/2005/02/14/050214fa\_fact6].

The strengthening of these special operations forces is not primarily for the combating of terrorism but will really play a major role in the repression of dissent or opposition. That will be their inevitable true function. The same methodology was used in Germany in the 1930s. By the time the Nazi Party came to power in 1933, Himmler's Schutzstaffel (the dreaded SS) had grown to a strength of 52,000. In 1934, "the SS [became] the principal instrument of internal rule in Germany" [see <http://spartacus-educational.com/GERhimmeler.htm> ]. So it always is with any government's "special forces" — ultimately, they will be used for the enforcement of internal rule. The same pattern will soon be happening across the world with today's totalitarian empire-in-waiting, especially when the eco-fascists get their way.

Obviously, there will be a vast number of co-conspirators involved in all the secret operations which take place at the behest of those with real power in this world. Procuring such a horde of betrayers is not at all difficult when an ideology is slavishly adhered to. The Israeli secret service organisation, Mossad, does this with their ‘Sayanim’ (Hebrew for ‘helpers’) — the vast number of Jewish people living around the world who provide backup for Mossad spies and engage in PR activities to improve the poor image of their country by ensuring that all criticism is systematically refuted [see <http://en.metapedia.org/wiki/Sayanim> ]. The Sayanim were referred to in an article, entitled “Israel’s Global Hit Squads”, in the UK Daily Mirror newspaper on 5th December 2011 by Chris Hughes: “At any one time, up to 50 senior Mossad officers are based in Europe, running a network of thousands of agents loyal to Israel”. [See the internet link to that article here: <http://www.thefreelibrary.com/ISRAEL%27S+GLOBAL+HIT+SQUADS.-a0274084603>]. If the US government was set to have a 60,000-strong elite force personnel by the end of 2007 to do its dirty work around the world, imagine what that figure must look like now. That number is just the tip of the iceberg of those who would do anything requested of them by their government, with no questions asked! That is their function. Anyone who resists the lies will simply be discredited; and if they are influential as well as dissenting, they will also be exterminated — which is already happening (as I showed in my article “The Sword’s Fear of the Pen: The Assassination of Writers, Thinkers & Whistleblowers”).

So this is where all the politicking and conniving of today are leading. The new faux-environmentalism of today is all part of the movement towards greater control and global hegemony, leading to the establishment of a ‘one-world’ government. The next few years are going to be one interesting ride, as world leaders, national politicians and false-church leaders such as the Pope call out for global government as the only way to save the planet. The Catholic Church has been heading in this direction for decades. In an archived April 7th, 1951 article in the New York Times, entitled “Pope Backs Plan for World Government; Sees It as a Means to Establish Peace”, it is demonstrated that Pope Pius XII called for this even way back then. [<https://www.nytimes.com/1951/04/07/archives/pope-backs-plan-for-world-government-sees-it-as-a-means-to.html> ]. Pope Benedict XVI called for world government in 2011 [See <https://www.businessinsider.com/whoops-vatican-lets-slip-plans-for-one-world-government-2011-10> ], and the current Pope Francis, in a speech to the Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences in the Vatican’s Apostolic Palace on May 2nd 2019, said: “In the current situation of globalization not only of economy but also of technological and cultural exchanges, the Nation-State is no longer able to procure by itself the common good for its population”. He therefore deduced that “When a supranational common good is clearly identified, there is need for a special legally constituted authority capable of facilitating its implementation. Think of the great contemporary challenges of climate change, new slavery and peace”.

Such a supranational, legally constituted authority with the teeth to enforce international climate-change legislation could only be a global government. Pope Francis is simply (so far) commending in code what his predecessors have openly stated. And if one thinks about Greta Thunberg’s threat (or, rather, that of her handlers and the people who write her speeches) that “change is coming whether you like it or not”, one can therefore easily see where all this is heading.

To those who say that Greta may be a dupe but at least she is raising awareness, I reply: “She is creating a false awareness based on fear. This is a classic method of manipulation”. Planting a misinformed, emotionally-disturbed and immature little girl as the head of a global faux-environmentalist movement was a way to try and offset criticism. Because surely only the cruelest soul could possibly find fault with a lovely, sweet-faced pigtailed little girl. 😊 The cry, “Stop bullying Greta!”, is hurled at everyone who dares to question her, and will no doubt be levelled at me too. But I am not writing this essay for her to read. That would be pointless. If she turned against her handlers, I would fear for her life. I do hope that she can be extracted from the mess she has found herself in with the least possible carnage; but somehow, I doubt this. It would not at all surprise me if someone such as her was found to have ‘committed suicide’ at some stage in the future, given the nature of the people for whom she is fronting. For they would ‘waste’ her at the drop of a hat, or drive her to do something desperate, if they thought she was reneging on their ‘deal’. Of course, that would be extremely sad. And we all know in which direction fingers would be pointed: In the direction of her critics!

Before I get into the Epilogue, let me say that I am not setting up a debate here. As far as I am concerned, there is nothing left to debate. It has gone way beyond that and I have discovered far too much over very many years. Besides, one cannot debate propaganda! I have looked at what the faux-environmentalists say and have found it disingenuous at best and downright dishonest at worst. So please do not write any Greta-defending, climate-change propaganda comments on my page or they will be removed. I do not provide space for other people’s propaganda. I am sure they have their own pages for that. This little essay is called an exposé. If you completely disagree with what I have written here, that is your prerogative. However, I do not see how you could disagree in general in the face of all the doubts and the data, and if you honestly read it all with an open mind; though that is entirely your choice and I respect that. I would never come to your page to try and ‘put you right’. But I know where I stand on this and I do not need anyone trying to ‘set me straight’ by telling me (as someone said recently on social media): “I trust Prof. Brian Cox cos he’s on the telly and knows what he’s talking about”. 😏 I just have to sigh when I read such inanities. Rolling out the words of all the patsies for the faux-environmentalist establishment and power-elite will not impress me at all. This is not because I am closed off from learning. It is simply because this kind of understanding is not something from which one retreats. And it would be a retreat. There is only one-way traffic in these kind of issues. People who have seen through bullshit do not go and wallow in it again!

Finally, I am not here to get ‘likes’, ‘reactions’, or comments. I am simply sharing some of what I know to be true. I can assure you that after many decades of writing material like this, I will not get involved in slanging matches or pointless exchanges. I have seen the vile insults and threats which are hurled at those who do not go along with the establishment on this subject and many other issues. But what I have written, I have written, and there I stand. So if you do not agree, you can just shake your head at my intransigent ignorance and then be on your way. 😊

EPILOGUE: Keeping Hope Alive (in spite of everything going on around us)

In answer to the question in the subtitle of this essay, “What Do a Girl Named Greta, Faux-Environmentalism & the New Age Movement Have in Common?”, the answer is that they are all part of a multi-pincer operation to bring the satanic ‘one-world’ government into being. You have the Gretas of the world and her clones trying to frighten everyone into it. The globalists are plotting and conniving their way towards it — presenting it as “the only way to peace and security”. The ‘corporate greens’ are entrepreneuring their way to it by convincing us we must do without this and that while they make their fortunes out of ‘green energy’ elements and ‘smart gizmos’ to control us all. The New Ager occultists ensure that they infiltrate all levels of society, from corporations to church denominations and political institutions, to smooth the way for their ‘one-world’ government and its supposed ‘World Teacher’ to take control of the planet. It is a many-headed hydra, and it is coming to a head... fast!

The Cognitive Dissonance of Faux-Environmentalism

There are also many things which are totally skewed about the faux-environmentalist movement. The entire momentum of environmentalism and ‘green issues’ has been peppered with cognitive dissonances which makes one wonder what is really going on here. Let me put it in the form of some questions: Have you ever wondered why only the rich can afford electric cars? [See <https://www.thetruthaboutcars.com/2019/05/shocker-electric-cars-are-still-generally-a-plaything-of-the-wealthy/> ]. Have you ever wondered why wind farms do not really save the environment (and can, in fact, be harmful in many ways) yet so much is made about creating them? [See <https://www.spectator.co.uk/2017/05/wind-turbines-are-neither-clean-nor-green-and-they-provide-zero-global-energy/> ]. Have you ever wondered why the masses are guilt-tripped into going to all the trouble of separating their trash for recycling when very often it all ends up in the same place anyway, or it is merely shipped abroad for unknown disposal? [See <https://www.investors.com/politics/editorials/recycling-china-landfills-cost-waste-environment-global-warming/> ]. I think that the satirical eZine, The Onion, got it about right back in 1997 with the headline: “EPA: Recycling Eliminated More Than 50 Million Tons of Guilt in ’96”. 🤔 Have you ever wondered what happens to the profits that supermarkets make through charging money for plastic bags allegedly because they ‘care so much about the environment’? Furthermore, the official UK claim that “the use of single-use plastic bags is down by 90%” involves a very clever massaging of the figures which ignores the sales of so-called “bags for life” which contain much more plastic than single-use bags! [See <https://www.channel4.com/news/factcheck/no-plastic-bag-sales-arent-down-90> ]. Have you ever wondered why you really pay a “carbon tax” or where the money goes (especially when there is no real defining proof that manmade CO<sub>2</sub> is significantly culpable for climate-change)? Have you ever wondered why big banks and corporations are so keen to get into financing cannabis production and ‘clean energy enterprise’? One may as well add the question: Have you ever wondered why health-foods are so darned expensive that only upwardly-mobile yuppies and rip-off New Age yoga teachers can afford them? Has anyone ever wondered about anything (while they listen to Taylor Swift, Justin Bieber or Coldplay on repeat on their car entertainment systems!)? 😞

The Pivotal Axis of this Creation & the Fulcrum of the Cosmos

So, to sum up: We live in a fallen world which is currently enslaved to an unseen realm of darkness ruled by unimaginably mighty beings who were once angels but are now known as demons, archons, or unclean spirits. This realm of darkness is programmed to set up a global kingdom on earth under a single leader who will stand divine law on its head. This realm of darkness has been conspiring to accomplish all this from the beginning (but only now are all the conditions in play which can enable that to fully happen). Two thousand years ago, the Christ came — not to start another world religion (that is just dead-end spiritless stuff) — but to warn about this realm of darkness, to proclaim the antidote to it, to gather disciples and devotees to truth, and to pave the way for a future new creation (a complete dimensional transformation of the current cosmos) in which there would be renewed humans (those who choose to follow him) and a renewed heaven and earth. The death, resurrection and ascension of Christ is the pivotal axis of the entire creation and the fulcrum of this cosmos. During the current period from the time of Christ to the end of this age, however long that may be, people can actually make the choice to become part of the new creation which will be established in the coming new aeon. Other satanically-inspired kingdoms of vast earthly power have come and gone in the past few thousand years. The false global kingdom which is currently in development — essentially an extension of the Roman empire of old — will also be destroyed after a little while of its existence at the very end of this aeon. Then the cosmos will be renewed. This is the prophecy... and it is inescapable.

Do Not Let your Prejudices Hold you Back

If you are at this moment wincing at my mention of the Christ and all these spiritual matters, please cast aside any prejudices you may have which are based on the corrupt way that so much of the mainstream false 'church' has behaved down the centuries and twisted the teachings of Christ into lifeless formulas, superstitious rituals, bellicose crusades, 'worship' by rote, and systems of cultlike control and exploitation. This is not what the Christ came to build. That false church is a satanic counterfeit and part of the very deception about which he warned. The true ekklesia (the real church) should not be a warring, or weapon-wielding, or politically-crusading, or inquisitioning, or squabbling, or sectarianizing, or 'billion-dollar-share-portfolio' owning (as in the major denominations). Neither should they be anti-intellectualizing and over-literalizing (as in crude fundamentalist circles), or bells and smells wielding, or fancy (and expensive) robe-wearing (or weirdo headgear-bearing), or sanctimonious, or Marxist, or pseudo-pious, or gossiping, serial-lying, backstabbing and other forms of spiritual abuse (of which I can assure you there is much in various church scenes), or 'heavy-shepherding' (which happens especially in the 'charismatic' and 'reformed' churches) or dead legalism (of which there is much in the 'reformed' churches). Neither should there be any paedophilia (which is rampant in the Roman Catholic and Church of England denominations), or unconditional government-ass-kissing sycophants (most churches actually!). Perish the thought of all of that in the bowels of hell! I realize that there are many genuine disciples of Christ even in the corrupted institutions of the false church. But that does not negate the fact that the true ekklesia is a divine-law-loving, Christ-centred, free-thinking, justice-promoting, discerning, dutiful, honourable, creative, clean-living, imaginative, ethical, false-authority-challenging counterculture of integrity and authenticity.

Maybe you will think that all this sounds crazy in the context of an article about the manmade climate-change scam. But that climate-change scam has to be seen in the context of the widespread deception and the spirit of antichrist which permeates this aeon and expands hugely as it draws towards its close. Or maybe you will not find all this to be crazy. Maybe something will be sparked within you that will make you say: "Somewhere, deep inside me, I know all this already. Why haven't I thought of it before?" The reason is because this perception has to be awakened within; then the Spirit of God will do some serious work in you. This is where the real hope lies — not in whether or not we will become extinct due to climate-change! Once one knows that evil only exists in order to humble us into a realization of our inability to stand against it alone — and thereby to drive us into the 'arms' of God and to make us into Christ-lovers, truth-tellers and doers of good — then all that evil loses its sting and our eyes are opened with multiple epiphanies concerning what is really happening within us and out there in the world. That is the greatest adventure possible!

The Real Source of Hope

Greta's addresses talk a lot about 'hope' or the loss of it. One's real hope springs from the initial realization that there is a background to all the mayhem and skullduggery in this world, the understanding of which will enable us to make sense of it. Hope springs from the fact that the darkness we can see all around us is not at all random but is fomented by a realm of darkness which goes way beyond the physical material elements of this cosmos — that what we are witnessing is the outworking of an ancient spiritual battle going back to the beginning of time, because the forces of darkness are in continual conflict with goodness and Light in this world. And everyone in this world is on one side or the other, whether they know it or not. In fact, the majority of the world's population currently supports the realm of darkness simply through their closed minds, their indifference towards (or even hatred for) Christ and their deliberate day-to-day conformity to the world-system. Ordinary ignorance is a beautiful thing; for it is a fertile hole waiting to be filled. The real scourge on this earth is wilful ignorance, which is a dammed-up bottomless pit of detritus, dried-up blood and old bones covered in ashes.

The United Nations, the International Monetary Fund (which is currently calling for large carbon taxes and higher energy bills) and making out as if it has a bleeding-heart concern for the environment, see <https://blogs.imf.org/2019/10/10/fiscal-policies-to-curb-climate-change/>, which comes complete with the obligatory webpage banner image of a pigtailed young protester!), big corporations, political quangos, superstates like the European Union and national governments will carry on living it up and hoarding vast wealth and land (while spouting socialist equality nonsense!), while the ordinary people will be over-burdened with taxes and fiscal policies to make them bear the cost of 'environmentalist protection' from a supposed climate-change-induced extinction, until the power-elite has total control. Then people's obedience to the government script will determine who will be unable to buy and sell and live a normal life.

Legislation will be produced to enforce environmental laws, and those who do not conform will be 'grassed on' by their children, relatives, and 'friends'. These laws will combine with 'hate crime' laws to suppress freedom of thought and religion (many of which are already embryonically in place). Those who transgress those laws will be grassed on too. This is the totalitarian scenario which lies ahead if the power-elite gets its way... and it will, 'because now is their hour and the power of darkness'. Evil is now being divinely-permitted to come to its head and show its true colours. It cannot be stopped, as it all is part of a process which this cosmos must go through in order for evil to be expunged once and for all. For only when evil has reached its fulness will it be eradicated in a supernaturally-induced transformation which will make Greta's 'extinction' idea look like a storm in a teacup. The only way to handle all this is to ensure one is on the side of the Creator and the Christ, to stand fast in the Light and on the basis of truth, just as Christ revealed. Then one will be part of the new creation in a new aeon, in which "death will not exist anymore — neither will mourning, or crying, or pain, for the former things will have ceased to exist". This is all laid out clearly and prophetically in the Book of Revelation (which is one of the reasons I will shortly be going on a pilgrimage to the cave on the Isle of Patmos where this seminal book was written more than 1900 years ago). Unless one understands these spiritual matters, taking them to heart, one will be shipwrecked on the rocks of cynicism, doubt, disbelief, and a crippling depression.

None of what I have written in this essay is a reason to be depressed or downcast. There is a sense in which everything is unfolding exactly as it should be and is moving according to the divine plan. When one quietly knows that the Power which created this cosmos is also wholly in control of it, there is no need to 'go off the deep end' about anything — especially about changes in climate. All one can do is remain true to Truth and refuse to live the lies imposed by others. I have every respect for human laws when they line up with divine law. But once law becomes an excuse to control humans belligerently, violently, and repressively, without any concern for humanity and divinity, then we must become dissidents wedded to counterculture, which indeed I already am. If you have not already done so, I hope you will join me! One must be prepared to be incarcerated for the sake of Truth, and even assassinated for it. Those who speak of their inner faith in Christ

(I mean true disciples from the heart, not mere churchgoers or those who adhere to religious observances) will be savagely ostracized and even liquidated. Those who currently merely laugh Christ's disciples to scorn will one day be those who turn them over to the authorities. This is coming. But do not fear the dark apparatchiks who can only kill the body in this world (and if we stand up for Truth and work for what is genuinely good and right, there will always be attempts to suppress and silence us). But if we hubristically and narcissistically work against divine law and put ourselves on a pedestal as the unique arbiters of everything (essentially trying to 'outgod' God), then not only will we lose our body in death, but it will follow quite naturally that our soul will find itself in outer darkness, for we will have chosen that pathway. This is not the time to be a dilettante or to sit on a fence. There is a straight choice in this life between light and darkness (which most often comes disguised as 'light' in this world), between good and evil (which very often comes disguised as 'good'). The onus is upon us to educate ourselves, to leave no stone unturned, to expose the works of darkness, to join minds with others who are not sleepwalking and to rescue those who are, and to rejoice in the fact that this is not a random universe hurtling towards an unknown fate. We cannot alter its final destiny; but we are not alone.

Hit me Up — Let's Talk!

Just so you know, I do not sit around thinking about all this stuff the whole time. This is why I revel in music and poetry. But I know too much to be able to block out the knowledge of what is happening in the world behind the scenes. However, I only talk about it openly when it is called for, such as in an article like this. I have laid almost all my cards on the table here. Almost. Although I have touched on a number of spiritual aspects which have a bearing on the subject of this essay, I could say so much more about what was prophesied a couple of thousand years ago by the Christ and his initial disciples, and why it would be madness and folly to ignore it. But I have already done this in many other articles and books; and the present essay is predominantly about the reasons behind the faux-environmentalism of the climate-change movement. However, if you are confused or curious and you would like to speak to me further about any of the elements mentioned in this essay, please do not hesitate to get in touch with me by email at nakedtroubadour@gmail.com or undertheradar@outlook.com. I love to discuss and elaborate and will welcome your enquiry. That is often when the real work begins.

The Real Environmentalism!

The mixture of atheism which underpins the globalist faux-environmentalism of today and the pseudo-spiritual New Age teaching on 'global oneness' which unexpectedly (but logically) links arms with the overall monetary and political globalist agenda does not lead to any avoidance of extinction but is instead a dead-end over which many will fall like lemmings off a cliff. However, angels are real. Demons (archons) are real. The spiritual battle which we are in the midst of is real. And so is the Divine, the Creator, the Christ, real. The 'environment' which I really love and long for is that which lies beyond what can merely be seen with the eyes, in another dimension altogether. If I can put it this way: That dimension is the real environmentalism!

Caring for the present environment in this three-dimensional world is an aesthetic obligation of divine law which is meant to be fulfilled; but not if it belongs to the agenda of those who use lies and greed to establish an empire of darkness in a so-called 'New Age'. This particular 'fake kingdom' is coming anyway, as a natural outworking of lawlessness and rebellion against all that is good and godly in this world. Rather than participating in it, we should be exposing it for what it is, refusing to partake in it, standing up for goodness and truth and awaiting the real transformation of this cosmos, which will be based on Light of Christ rather than any mendacity, dissimulation, deception, and counterfeit.

So when a confused and emotionally-disturbed young girl from a predominantly atheist/socialist/New Age country speaks about ‘hope’, the correct response is that it does not lie in any phony environmentalist strategies in which she has been programmed to believe and to propagandize. There is no hope in this fallen world as it is currently constituted. That is the whole point of its existence! To wean you off false hope (which cannot be found in anything which can be seen with one’s physical eyes) and to harvest your hope in being part of the time when all the potential of this cosmos has been transformed into what it is meant to be: The ascension of matter to its full dimensional potential, in which there can be no climate-change issues or any other aberration of nature. That is the ‘environment’ which I long for. We can become part of that genuine future kingdom right now, in a spiritual sense, by rejecting false ‘messiahs’, false prophets, and false light, and surrendering our spirits to the creative force which lies behind the foundation of this universe by entering the alchemical adventure of transformation that I bring before you here.

Below you will find a great many links to interesting articles and videos refuting manmade climate-change. Please read and watch with much discernment. Just because they are listed here does not mean that I endorse every single word written or said therein. But there is much in the list that is thought-provoking, revealing, and helpful to gaining a general overview of the politics, ideology, and agenda behind the manmade climate-change movement.

- I am putting this video here to provide you with an example of the kind of cognitive dissonance which ignorant parents are passing on to their gullible children. We see here a father and son aggressively confronting a man who is going hunting in a forest for deer which he eats. He is hunting for his food. The kid especially goes hysterical about it, while also admitting to the hunter that he eats meat bought in a supermarket yet does not see any discrepancy in that! This is the kind of hysteria and pseudo-emotionalism which is so common today. Many will applaud that child for “standing up to the hunter”. But he is really an example of the sort of screwed-up emotionally-unstable kid, with no respect for his elders, who will get whipped up into the climate-change hokum and grass on people who break environmental laws. He is operating out of exactly the same gullible headspace as Greta Thunberg:
